

REIGN OF TERROR IN IRELAND

London Editor Arraigns Government for Appalling Atrocities

Government Resorts to Murder, Arson and False Charges of Sinn Fein Plots

Premier and Carsonism Held Responsible for This Disgrace to Civilization

In view of the reported incendiarism at the docks of Liverpool charged against the Sinn Fein, but without any lack of evidence, from a personal of the following article by a London editor, it will be readily seen that the government officials are in dire straits and are resorting to the most unparalleled infamies to discredit every newspaper and every British subject who criticizes the government policy or its atrocities in Ireland. The city of Cork has been practically destroyed by the Black and Tans, the total loss by incendiary fires in the past week amounting to over $1,000,000. When volunteers tried to stop the progress of the flames, the Black and Tans drove them off. It is hard to believe such charges and they do not represent British sentiment as the subjoined article will show. They are the work of the imperialists, militarists and Carsonism of which Lloyd George is the tool as Editor Gardiner shows in the following article:

THE HORRORS IN IRELAND

By A. G. Gardiner.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—I do not think that in the darkest days of the war so heavy a shadow hung over us as there hangs over us now. They at least, our conscience was clear. We had a good cause; we had a united people. If there was a break in the clouds we rejoiced together. If things looked desperate and failure was imminent, at least we felt that we could lose honorably. We might be beaten, but we would not be disgraced.

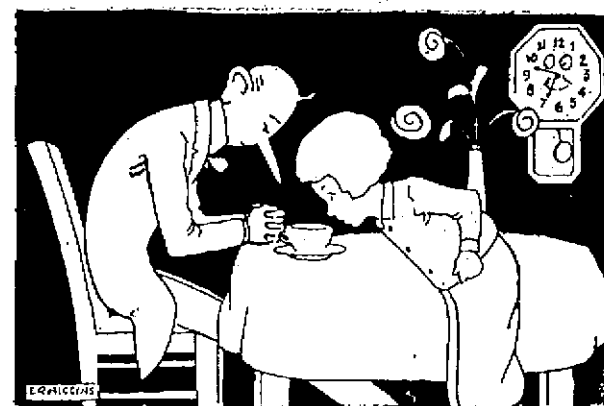

But now horror succeeds horror. In these days we seem to pass into the very valley of humiliation. There is no break in the sky, no promise of anything except more horror, deeper and deeper. And we are rent asunder. A profound gulf divides the nation that ever before in the memory of living

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

NICK DISCOVERS SOMETHING

Nick looked around carefully at everything in Scribble Scratch's dining room. The fairymans still sat at the table, snoring loudly and showing no signs of waking. It was very strange, the whole thing, and the more the little boy gazed at Wasp Weasel's paddy track on the floor, the more sure he because that something was wrong and that Wasp knew more about it than anybody else.

Suddenly he began to sniff. What was that flower smell? It was like a weed, yet there wasn't a sign of a weed, nor flower even, anywhere. Being tall and quite cool, the doors and windows were shut, so the smell couldn't be coming in from the outside.

Next Nick discovered that the closer he came to the table, the stronger the smell became. He sniffed and sniffed and the more he sniffed the more sure he became that it was something usmelled funny, too! Because, as Nick reasoned, it had the queer cream in it. All this time the fairymans slept on. His glasses had fallen off his nose completely, and his stiff collar was beginning to choke him. But nothing bothered him. He smiled peacefully at though dreaming about a circus or something. The mantel clock pointed to a quarter of ten now, but the little schoolmaster wasn't bothering any more about Meadow Grove school than an about what I'm going to have for lunch next Sunday. Only I hope it's good one.

The sitting left it should end in unprecedented scenes of violence, gives you an idea of this humiliating assembly.

I ask the American people to believe that it does not represent the nation. It represents the mob. It represents the ignorant rich. It represents militarists and the imperialists. It does not represent the mass of sober opinion, which is shocked and outraged by the hideous plunge into barbarism. The voice of liberalism has declared with overwhelming emphasis against reprisals after the Bradford conference this week.

Organized labor is solidly on the same side. The churches, futile though they have been since the war began, are beginning to share the indignant cry of shame.

But how can these forces make themselves felt? If they could compel an election I am confident that this parliament would be shattered and

RHEUMATISM-RELIEF

From Its Dreadful Pains and Aches, Stiffness, Swelling—

Is properly to be sought in a good blood medicine, because authorities say rheumatism is a blood disease. Acid has entered the blood, settling in the muscles and joints. That's what makes the sharp, sudden, shooting pains, causing you to jump and cringe in agony.

Hood's Sarsaparilla comprises remedies that every physician prescribes for rheumatism, combined with other blood-purifying, tonic and strengthening ingredients in a formula really superior in make-up and in curative power. It does give positive relief. Thousands say so. So will you. For a fine laxative take Hood's Pills.—Adv.

Sinn Fein Crime Magnified

And not only do they control the machine directly or indirectly, but they control the press also. The time-light is turned on every crime by the Sinn Fein that will sting the country sitting as a jury. It leaves all the crimes of the government in the shadow. Compare the attention given the horrible assassination of the officers in Dublin with the treatment—the horrible massacre—in connection with the football game in Croko Park in Dublin last Sunday and this fatal policy, illuminating one side and ignoring the other, will be apparent. Even the terrible denunciation of reprisals delivered by Mr. Asquith at the National Liberal Club was practically suppressed by most of the London newspapers. Control of the press by hidden forces and its concentration into half a dozen irresponsible hands is becoming one of the greatest menaces to the nation! It is bringing ruin to Ireland today; it will bring ruin to England tomorrow.

There is no longer any pretence that the reprisals are not official. That pretence was maintained, for months, but Mr. Asquith's exposure of the Weekly Summary, the secret circular issued by the forces of the crown in Ireland, has disposed of it. The Weekly Summary breathes incitement to reprisals on every page.

And day by day Lloyd George repeats that the "murder gang" is being tracked down. Probably many of them are being shot, and it is possible that all of them may be rooted out. But they are not being rooted out by reprisals which fall on the innocent. For example, two of the players shot down in the massacre at the Croko park ground were men who had served in the war.

Reprisals Help the Sinn Fein

No one pretends that the shooting of unknown women and children, or the burning of creameries, or midnight murders of responsible citizens like Mr. Coleman of Cork, have any right to do. The only effect of these crimes is to stir moderate opinion in Ireland into the arms of the Sinn Fein. Lord Dunsany spoke plain, indisputable truths in the house of lords last Tuesday when he said that originally the Sinn Fein were without a tinge of republicanism. They have become republican in sheer despair.

And all Ireland outside Ulster is being driven to the Sinn Fein in despair also. We have made the nation our enemy. By our reprisals we have made enemies of thousands who desired to be our friends and who had nothing to do with the Sinn Fein and who are as horrified at the Sinn Fein crimes as is any Englishman.

This is Lloyd George's achievement. Now we wait for its dreadful fruits. It may be that the reign of terror will produce a semblance of peace. It is more likely to reduce the whole country to complete and irreparable anarchy. But if it produces a peace of exhaustion, it will still have failed. No one believes we can hold Ireland permanently by the bayonet. No one believes the country will attempt to hold it so permanently. This government may end next month, or it may last two years more, but the day it goes to the country will be the last day of government in Ireland by terror.

Expects Liberals to Win

I content that the liberal mind of England always wins. I believe that it was never surer of winning than on this one great argument. Next Saturday there will be such a meeting in Albert hall here as this country never saw before. It will be a meeting of the flower of the nation called to denounce the greatest iniquity ever perpetrated in the name of the British government and to proclaim peace in Ireland as a national policy. And in every city in the country similar meetings are afoot.

The nation is organizing into two camps. Between them there can be no compromise, for one stands for tyranny and the other for freedom. It will be a hard fight; maybe it will be a long fight. We shall sup full of horrors before it is finished. But I do not doubt the issue. Liberal England, defeated again and again, will achieve the emancipation of Ireland. And victory may be nearer than the hideous circumstances of today permit us to hope.

POLISH WORKERS FOR RED CROSS

The Roll Call of Red Cross members in Polish homes in the city now totals 314 members. These were secured through the efforts of 26 volunteer Polish workers.

To start the thing along the campaign leaders held a mass meeting in the Polish hall in Coburn street and the enthusiasm displayed there was indicative of success. One of the reasons for the whole-hearted support is that the Red Cross has been and still is of great assistance to the Polish army in Poland.

The roll call ends this evening. All the members of the various teams and volunteer workers are urged to report their memberships during the day to George B. Chandler, Red Cross treasurer, in the Union National bank, in Merrimack street opposite Central.

$75,000 FIRE LOSS AT SALEM—FIREMEN HURT

SALEM, Nov. 29.—Fire, smoke and water in the old customhouse on Central street, the Shawmut building at the corner of Central and Essex streets, and the Mansfield building at 191 Essex street, early yesterday morning caused damage estimated at $75,000.

The firemen were injured while fighting the fire. Ladderman James O'Brien received a bad gash in his right hand, and Lieut. Collins sustained a sprained ankle by making a misstep.

The old customhouse, which was built in 1805, had been used for 50 years as a business block.

The fire apparently originated in a small frame structure in the rear of 191 Essex street and spread to the cellar in the northern part of the customhouse block. The fire was discovered at 3 o'clock and an alarm from box 21 was followed by a general alarm.

All of the buildings damaged were three stories high, with several frame structures in the rear which narrowly escaped destruction. The fire rapidly worked up the stairway at the northern end of the old customhouse and spread through an opening on the third floor to apartments occupied by H. P. Alley in the Shawmut building.

The first floor of the Shawmut block was occupied by Herbert D. Rice, dealer in men's furnishing goods, who also had storerooms in the customhouse building. His loss is estimated at $50,000 and is said to be covered by insurance.

The Brockton shoe store at 6 Central street was stocked for the holiday trade. It is stated that the loss entailed will aggregate $15,000.

On the second floor of the customhouse block a specialty store is located.

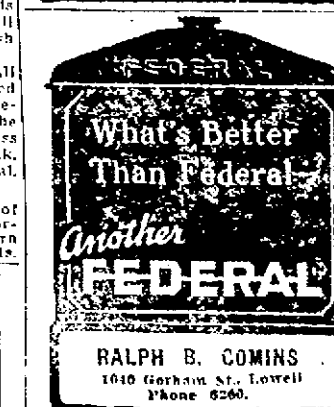

Sloan's Goes Right to the Aching Spot

You can just tell by its healthy, stimulating odor, that it is going to do you good.

THOUSANDS of men and women, when the least little rheumatic "twinge" assaults them, have Sloan's Liniment handy to knock it out. Popular over a third of a century ago—far more popular today. That's because it is so wonderfully helpful in relieving external aches and pains—rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, overstrained muscles, stiff joints, weather exposure results. A little is all that is necessary, for it soon penetrates without rubbing, to the sore spot. No mess, no stained skin.

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief,—yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—LILLIAN THANN, 824 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

PRIMATE OF IRELAND DENOUNCES MURDERS

DUBLIN, Nov. 29.—Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, in a pastoral letter read yesterday in all the churches of the archdiocese, denounces the murders in Ireland and declares that if a balance were struck between last Sunday's assassinations of officers and the shooting by the police in Croke Park he believes it "should be given against the forces of the crown."

The cardinal's letter scathingly arraigns the methods the government is pursuing, but warns the people "against any association, secret or open, which would lead them into any disorders or crime."

The cardinal, in the letter, says the ardent hopes of the Irish people for peace are shared by European and other countries. In support of this he cites a letter from the archbishop of Malines and all the bishops in Belgium conveying their cordial sympathy to the Irish people. The letter proceeds to condemn in the strongest terms Sunday's tragedies, declaring belief that every man and woman in Ireland deplored and detested these "cold-blooded murders," which the cardinal says "no object could excuse and no motive justify," and adding:

"The perpetrators of such crimes are not real patriots but enemies of their country."

Turning to the Croke park affair, the cardinal says the forces of the crown were bound by their offices to protect and not to destroy the people, especially those within their rights and innocent of any offense.

"The assassination of individuals is a detestable crime and a terrible outrage against God's law," he continues, "but it is a greater shock to humanity, a heavier outrage against the divine ordinance whereby human life is protected, to turn lethal weapons against defenseless, unarmed, closely packed multitudes."

With reference to reprisals, Cardinal Logue says lives and property are being sacrificed in cases where there has been no outrage which could give color to retaliation and that the activities of the military were being carried into districts which hitherto had been considered peaceful.

ABANDON "JAKE"

Sweet Spirits of Nitre Favorite "Booze" Substitute

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Nov. 29.—Seekers after the joys of the "howling cup" are abandoning "Jake" and other substitutes for sweet spirits of nitre, it became known today.

The latest move of the do-or-die followers of the defunct John Harleyscorn was disclosed today by the state director of registration in medicine, William S. Briry. The statement was made coincidentally with the issuance of a warning by Director Briry to the effect that continued indulgence in the practice of drinking sweet spirits of nitre will seriously undermine a person's health and ultimately bring about death.

"If 'Jake' is injurious to health, this drug is thousands of times worse," said Mr. Briry today. His attention was called to the novel use for the drug by the unusually large sales which have been made during the past year. Before prohibition went into effect not more than a few ounces of the drug went bought at a time, he says. Now he finds that it is being purchased by the pint, quart and gallon.

"Its usual use is for treating colds, fevers and kidney trouble," Mr. Briry explained, "and for the ordinary case a dose of 30 drops is sufficient. Obviously alcohol addicts are buying it for beverage purposes."

"Sweet spirits of nitre contains alcohol, sodium nitrate and sulphuric acid. A few drops of it are beneficial for medicinal purposes, but used as a beverage, its ingredients speak for themselves. Sulphuric acid, as should be well known, will eat through lead. Chemists have a means of removing the sulphuric acid and nitrate, so that only the alcohol remains. However, the average drinker is not a chemist and when he attempts the operation he cannot expect to be successful. To drink the residue is to take one's life in one's hands."

This is what Dean Theodore J. Bradley of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy has to say about the drug: "In small doses it relaxes the blood vessels, thus lowering the blood pressure and increasing the pulse rate and the breathing rapidly. In larger doses, the increase in the pulse and breathing rate is more marked, with leaden, purplish coloration of the lips and finger tips, followed by flushing of the face, giddiness, nausea, muscular debilitation and violent headaches."

DISCUSS CONTROL OF RESOURCES BY LEAGUE

GENEVA, Nov. 29. (By the Associated Press)—The question whether countries shall be allowed to control and dispose at will of their natural resources is the subject of a sharp conflict in a committee of the assembly.

The contest arose over a resolution by Gustave Ador, Switzerland, setting up a permanent economic and financial commission, one of the duties of which would be to examine measures for preventing monopolies in raw materials and the means of controlling their distribution.

The resolution is based on article 23 of the covenant which assures all states equitable treatment. It is supported chiefly by Italy, Switzerland and other countries not rich in raw materials.

One of the strongest opponents of the resolution is Sir George E. Foster of Canada, who has taken the same attitude as N. W. Rowell, also of Canada, who served notice on the assembly in an impressive speech recently that any attempt to exercise control would be regarded as interference in internal affairs to which Canada would never submit.

Mr. Rowell at the same time said that the entry of the United States could not be roped for any such interference were attempted.

The question of mandates is another difficult subject coming up this week. The council has on the agenda for tomorrow the nomination of a permanent mandate commission, and another committee at the same time will take up the general question in the form of terms and the control of mandates. This committee, which is known as No. 6, has recommended that the United States be invited to co-operate unofficially in the study of the question of disarmament.

Do This For Constipation

THE public should know that there is a vast difference in the action of the various remedies for constipation. Some are "laxatives," purges, physics. They gripe and weaken.

For lasting effect use a laxative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin acts gently and mildly so that even a tiny baby can use it with safety. It is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. A pleasant bowel movement follows every family many months.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the most popular of all laxatives and more is sold in American homes than any other. Last year eight million bottles were sold by druggists, the largest sale in the world.

SUNDAY ENTERTAINMENT AT Y. M. C. A.

An audience of men which entirely filled the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon heard Dr. Austen T. Kempton of Cambridge give his drama, "Paid in Full," in one of the best of the series of Sunday entertainments being held by the local association.

"Paid in Full" is really nothing but a dramatized sermon, seeking to point out the fact that men get into difficulties from which only God can save them. The story of the drama was very appealing and as interpreted by Dr. Kempton was most enjoyable.

In addition to Dr. Kempton's entertainment, there were solos by Walter W. Colby and Floyd K. Blodgett led the gathering in singing. Rev. Elmer F. West read from the scripture and Rev. Karl P. Melstner offered prayer.

ACCEPTS ALL SOULS' CHURCH PASTORATE

Hailing the joining of Trinitarian and Unitarian Congregational churches in All Souls' church as a hopeful sign for the progress of Christianity in this country, Rev. Arthur Cushman McGiffert, Jr., of New York city, in a letter read at yesterday morning's service accepted the pastorate of new church.

Referring to the new organization, he says in his letter:

"Such a venture as All Souls' church has undertaken is a hopeful sign for the progress of Christianity in this country. As tangible evidence of your faith in that venture and your mutual trust, you have constructed an edifice which is not only beautiful in itself, but also an efficient tool that will enable the members of the church to render notable service to the city of Lowell and America and to the world."

Continuing the letter he says:

"Believing as I do that there is a Christian ideal both for each human being and society as a whole, and that our supreme contribution as followers of Jesus is to ascertain and progressively realize that ideal in our own lives and the life of the community of which we are a part, I welcome the opportunity which you have offered me of joining with you in the difficult and yet challenging task of making the new All Souls' church a force to be counted on in the establishment of the Kingdom of God."

"I therefore accept your call, and will be ready to begin my work on the first Sunday of December or as soon thereafter as should seem to you desirable."

Mr. McGiffert is 27 years old and a graduate of Harvard university. He was in service as a chaplain during the world war. His father is president of Union Theological seminary. Mrs. McGiffert is the daughter of Samuel A. Eliot, president of the American Unitarian association. He is a Congregationalist.

Mr. and Mrs. McGiffert are to take up their residence in a furnished house in Ash street, belonging to Mrs. Geo. H. Spaulding, upon their arrival in Lowell.

AMERICAN LEADERSHIP

F. O. I. F. Urge American-
Irish Movement—Pledge
Loyalty to De Valera

WORCESTER, Nov. 28.—The state convention of the Friends of Irish Freedom was held yesterday in the Grand theatre with 455 delegates present, and Justice Daniel F. Cohalan of New York as a guest and speaker, and with but a small minority of the delegates showing any of the feeling which has led some of the members to withdraw from the organization.

After a brief skirmish at the opening of the convention, harmony prevailed and the business was transacted without serious opposition. Justice Cohalan declared the United States is face to face with a death grapple with British imperialism.

State officers were elected for the year, resolutions were adopted, pledging loyalty to Eamon de Valera, the Irish republic and the Irish parliament, declaring the American movement in behalf of Ireland is an American movement and must be led by Americans, condemning outrages by the British in Ireland and affirming the determination of the Friends of Irish Freedom to "fight for America and American Institutions against British imperialism, and to expose the vicious propaganda carried on by England in America."

Only Brief Contest

The convention was called to order by Patrick J. Moynihan of Worcester, the state secretary. Rev. Fr. Mullin of Hudson offered prayer. Rev. Dr. J. Doherty of Cambridge spoke, urging the importance of the cause of Ireland above lesser matters, and he introduced Rev. James J. Howard of Worcester as temporary chairman. Rev. Fr. Howard was later made permanent chairman.

Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell of St. James church, Boston, made a stirring speech in which he said there could be no difference of opinion among the friends of Ireland on the vital matter of Irish freedom, while there might be honest differences as to the best methods to pursue in serving the cause. He declared Eamon de Valera is sincere, but some differ from him as to methods. Fr. O'Donnell closed by declaring anyone who seeks to sow dissension now is no friend to Ireland. His speech was loudly cheered.

The only real fight of the convention came on a motion offered providing all matter pressed relative to the future of the Friends of Irish Freedom or as to policies should be referred to a committee on resolutions named by the chairman. By a vote of 223 to 115, as counted by tellers, the motion was adopted.

By unanimous vote resolutions presented from the floor were adopted pledging support to the Irish republic, the substance of which was again adopted as part of the report accepted from the resolutions committee. A resolution presented by a delegate from Holyoke to disband the organization, because of opposition to it by President de Valera, was rejected.

Cohalan Blames De Valera

Justice Cohalan declared Mr. de Valera responsible for failure of the Irish republic in the platform of the republican party in Chicago of a plank calling for self-determination for the people of Ireland.

Officers Elected

The officers elected are: Daniel J. Moran of Lynn, president; Thomas Downey of Haverhill, vice president; Mrs. Mary Wraynor of Boston, secretary; Dr. Peter O. Shea of Worcester, treasurer; Rev. Fr. O'Donnell of Boston, Coleman McDonagh of Milton, Rev. Fr. Doherty of Cambridge, Francis J. Taylor of Fitchburg, Helen J. Casey of Springfield, Matthew Cummings of Newbury, and Patrick Mannion of Fall River, state councillors, and Edward F. McSweeney of Framingham, Matthew J. Cummings of Dorchester, Daniel T. O'Connell of Boston, Rev. Fr. Howard of Worcester, Cornelius Collins of Cambridge, Frank Campbell of Roxbury, John Kelly of Springfield, Philip Curran of Taunton, Rev. Fr. O'Donnell of Boston and John Regan of New Bedford, national councillors.

The resolutions committee consisted of Edward F. McSweeney, Fr. O'Donnell, Patrick Cannon of Clinton, Rev. Fr. Doherty of Cambridge, Francis Campbell of Boston, Matthew J. Cummings of Dorchester, Dr. M. J. Meagher of Mattapan, Gerald Sweeney of Somerville, Patrick Mannion of Fall River, Francis Taylor of Fitchburg, Cornelius Shea of Hyde Park and Coleman McDonagh of Milton.

KILLS TWO DEER
WITH ONE SHOT

KEENE, N. H., Nov. 28.—There are many hunters who secured two deer during the open season, but it is rare that one secures two with a single shot. This feat, however, was accomplished by Marshall Hill of Swanzy, who fired at a large buck, which started and ran.

Mr. Hill went to take up the trail, and as he arrived at the spot where the buck stood found that he had killed a doe. Following the trail a short distance he found the dead buck. He found the bullet had passed through the buck and then killed the doe.

Ireland is more than twice the size of Denmark and Switzerland combined.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By the Theatre Own Press Agents

THE STRAND

Nazimova, the wonderful Russian artist, whose screen portrayals are numbered among the most satisfying that fiction has given the public, will appear in the feature offering on The Strand program for the first three days of the week, starting with matinee today. "Madame Peacock" is called her greatest by herself and those in her position to judge, are quite in accord with her. The star will appear in two characters, each resembling in some measure the great Russian star's own career. The story is by Rita Weisman, and it brings Nazimova to the screen first as Jane Goring, a repentant stage star, and then as Gloria Cromwell, a young girl as naive and charming as Jane is brilliant. Certainly Nazimova should make this story live, for she has been in the course of her remarkable career both the young girl of great promise and the great actress who has fulfilled promise. In this her latest Metro picture, Nazimova has chosen George Parbert for her leading man, who has herself adapted the picture for direction by Ray C. Smallwood. Chief in support of the Russian star, besides Parbert, are John Stepping, William Orlmond, Rex Cherryman, Albert Cody, Gertrude Claire and Mrs. Woodbridge.

Frank Mayo, one of the most popular of the local screen stars, will be seen in his latest successful picture, "Hillbilly Post." Mayo appears as Jefferson Todd, a gentleman who lost his estate to his brother-in-law, a Union sympathizer. Resorting to a card as a livelihood, Todd is the unknown cause of an old southerner's suicide and later he meets and falls in love with the daughter. Feeling that the girl cannot be for him, Todd bends his efforts to assure her future. The culmination of his adventures is in a hand-to-hand fight over a petroleum pool in the western country. The play ends as good photo-plays always end, Mayo, always polished, manly and convincing in his characterizations, is said to set a high mark in his portrayal of the role of Todd, while the supporting cast is excellent.

A new comedy and weekly will make the bill an exceptionally strong one.

OPERA HOUSE

Farce comedy, when presented in a capable manner, is invariably enjoyable, and that's one of the big reasons why "A Widow By Proxy" should give satisfaction. The Opera House is coming week. The Lowell Players are unquestionably one of the most versatile set of actors and actresses that has graced a local stock stage in seasons, and in this latest production by Catherine Chisholm Cushing in which May Irwin won a noted stage triumph, they are sure of scoring one of their biggest hits. The story of the piece is farcical but enjoyable. Gloria Grey is an adorable creature who shares her happiness with the troubled Dolores Pennington, after the supposed death of her husband. The girls are on their last financial legs when an offer comes from the attorney for the Penningtons that Dolores may assume her high social station in life again if she will agree to take up her home at the old Pennington manor. This she refuses to do because she always held that it was the Penningtons who were responsible for her troubles. Gloria decides to substitute and goes as Dolores, "the widow by proxy." Complications develop in rapid succession. Gloria falls deeply in love with the aristocrat, and then she dedicates her affection because of her supposed recent bereavement. She continues to conceal her identity until she finds out the Stevens has lifted his fiancée when he found out that she was fooling him just as Gloria is doing. To add to the complications Jack returns and at the opportune time and there is an honest, fair exposure and Gloria and Dolores have their hearts as year ago.

Miss Marguerite Fields will prove delightful as Gloria and Miss Florence Hill whose popularity is increasing will be each succeeding presentation. The story will be seen as Dolores. Milton Byron will be assigned to the role of Capt. Pennington and Maxwell Driscoll will be "Jack." The others of the big cast, including a pleasure is possible at the Merrimack Square theatre today, tomorrow or Wednesday when Miss Dalton's latest production, "A Romantic Adventure," will be shown. B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

A double-headed, double-barrelled show will be brought to you at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, when Margaret Hill's "The Star of the Supreme" is a single topline attraction, two of them, and one of a most novel kind. The headliner is "A Golf Proposal," with Jack Kennedy and company playing in a comedy of the links. The story of the man who had his mind on the game of golf, and who yet became strangely distracted from it when he saw a certain young woman. It is his best play and to make love at the same time. He couldn't do both well so he gave up—well, see for yourself. And the extra added feature deals with the Venice of all nations, Annette Kellerman. In over 500 feet of amazing slow motion pictures all of the grace of form of this wonderful woman, and the skill of the technique of diving will be demonstrated better, perhaps, than ever before. The wonderful interest in movement shown by the slow-motion pictures will keep everybody keyed up in the regular movie many movements are hidden from view because of the speed of the body in action. They are all shown here just as nature causes them to be carried out.

But this is not to be a bill of a very few good acts. Take the Big City Four for instance. It is rated as the best male quartet in all vaudeville. The four men who go to make it up, Messrs. Webb, Roberts, Lambert and Scanlan, were formerly of the celebrated Paulini club, which is no justly famous. These four men have been singing together for a number of years, and they are perfect in their ensemble work. Who doesn't like a bit of Scotch? It is noted all over the world and that's why McIntosh and His Musical Maids are placed on this very good bill. To be sure they stick to the kilts and tartan, and they sing the old songs and dance the noted heatherland dances. The Besson band of instrumentalists is one of the features of this very good act.

"A Comedy of Errors," with Edwin George playing the leading and only part, will tickle the risibles of many. George almost does a lot of wonderful juggling tricks. It is very probable that he could do them if he wished. But he prefers the comedy to the real thing, and it is worth while. Adelaide and Helen Harrigan are two girls who extract much merriment from a piano and from current popular songs. They are youthful and pretty. And then there is Rudinoff, the originator of amusements and the flying Henrys, one of the best acts of the circus. In addition there will be Kinograms, Topics of the Day and a screen comedy.

If you want to see the fallacy of hiring help on the reference plan you must visit the Rialto theatre on either of the three first days of this week and see Constance Talmadge take the part of a poor working girl in the big screen production "Good References." She does a great job in this picture and lives up to her high reputation before the camera. In addition to "Good References," there is a Harry Lehman comedy, "The Kick in High Life," Tom Moore in "The Black Sheep" and Fox News. An excellent bill. Don't fail to book a date for the opening days of next week when the screen marvel of the day, "Go Get It," comes to Lowell.

Four more keepers were arraigned in court today, charged with unlawful possession of a gun.

BREAKING CONTRACTS

"Such of the present depression in the textile industry has been due to the evil of cancellation of orders, by wholesale dealers when they found a lack of demand from the retailers. The question now agitated is, how to make such orders binding, as every contract honorably entered into should be."

The secret of the cancellation was that prices began to come down or else there was a reduction in prospect, and on discovering that, an order given would entail a loss, the givers cancelled it regardless of the loss to the manufacturer. Thus an order, which in all respects amounts to a contract, was broken.

If business men disregard their contracts, then the fundamentals of our civilization will be overthrown. Contracts legitimately made, can be broken only by agreement of both parties or by one party when the other fails to live up to the terms of the contract.

When a business man, because of a falling market, cancels an order given in good faith and in which material, labor and money may have been expended, he is guilty of a dishonorable act, which proves him untrustworthy.

The textile industry, it seems, has suffered more than any other from this form of repudiation of contracts. So serious has the result been, that steps have been taken to hold every order given strictly as a contract between two parties that must be carried out as primarily arranged.

There is no reason why a contract of that kind should not be binding the same as any other. Part of the trouble has arisen from the fact that the manufacturer has not been willing to sever friendly relations with his customer, because of one transaction, feeling that he would thereby lose future orders. But whatever the cause may have been, the consequences have been so serious, that rare must be taken in the future to make due provision against such backsliders in the business world. It must be generally understood in future that an order given from a wholesale dealer to a manufacturer is more than a mere scrap of paper. In time, there must be a restoration of the sacredness of the contract between business men, between wholesalers and manufacturers and also between wholesalers and retailers. There must be an understanding that once an order is given, it must not be revoked or cancelled because of a falling market and that such cancellation constitutes a breach of contract for which the law of equity provides a remedy.

CHRISTMAS TOYS

Shops already show a shimmering line of Christmas toys. Dealers vie with one another in their desire to get a part of the $50,000,000 that will be spent for them this holiday season. An interesting thing in connection with the toys, or rather two interesting things, are that the center of the toy industry has moved out of Germany, where for years it held full possession, and that in the United States a better line of toys along educational lines is being manufactured.

Dolls by the millions, kiddie cars by the thousands, erectors of many kinds and of varying merit are ready for the ultimate consumer, with delivery by Santa Claus on the night before Christmas guaranteed.

Perhaps it took an American, Robert Peary, to discover Santa's workshops at the North Pole, on the top of the earth, but if so, Santa has repaid America a thousandfold for what it cost American grit and bravery to turn the trick by establishing branch factories in a hundred humming American cities, where for months his people have been working double-time to prepare for those great days now coming.

At present toyland is already aglow with tint and tinsel, and a thousand varieties of toys that not only entertain, but educate, lacking nothing but the presence of a Christmas tree and old Santa himself to make the picture complete.

In spite of the supposed depression in business, the people are buying lavishly so that great Christmas business is expected in all lines here in Lowell.

NO DEPRESSION HERE

Although several of our mills are closed and curtailment is the rule in various lines of business, the manner in which Thanksgiving was observed here did not indicate any lack of money.

Most of the provision stores had sold out their stock of turkeys on the day before. To their great astonishment the people didn't object to the high prices and the number of families who purchased a turkey at $10 or over was very large. That does not indicate poverty, but on the contrary it shows that the people have the money and are willing to spend it for what they want.

The daily attendance at the theatres is another proof that the people are prosperous. In most of the theatres it is difficult to get a good seat after 7 o'clock. If any are left, they are the cheapest in the house, which shows that the public wants the best and is willing to pay the price.

It is gratifying to know that although we are in the midst of an industrial depression, the people of our city have not yet begun to feel its effects. They are drawing upon the money they have saved during the prosperous years of the war and are confident that the depression will be of short duration. That is the right spirit with which to meet the present industrial situation.

EVICION BY INJUNCTION

There is a sprinkler law in operation in Boston and perhaps also in some other parts of the state, the object being to install sprinklers in certain flats as a protection against fire. It is not usual to make the installment of sprinklers compulsory with the alternative that the houses must be vacated; but such seems to be the case now in Boston where 100 families have been ordered to vacate because the proprietor of the flats in question has failed to put in the sprinklers as required by this special law.

Judges have been known quite recently to refuse to order families out in the face of the difficulty of securing other apartments.

The judge who issued the injunction of eviction in the Boston case might have shown better judgment if worse legal practice by taking other steps to compel the owner of the buildings to put in the sprinklers rather than to put the tenants to vacate. The owner of the buildings says that he fell behind on the job because the manufacturers were slow in sending necessary material. It seems that if the people in the flats referred to have passed the summer without sprinklers, it is poor policy to throw out the tenants in the mouth of winter in order to compel the owner to put in the sprinklers.

It will not increase popular respect for the injunction if by that legal process 100 families are left homeless at this time of year.

THE LABOR VOTE

In reference to the part the labor organization played in the recent national election, it is claimed by the leaders that they were instrumental in defeating thirteen senators and forty representatives who voted for the Cummins-Esch railroad bill and who were in consequence marked as "unfriendly" by the railroad brotherhoods and other branches of the American Federation of Labor. Whether the opposition of labor forces brought about this result is problematical. Without a doubt it helped, and in any case, the labor men cannot be effectively contradicted when they say they relied 63 enemies of labor from the senate and house. Many other elements entered into the campaign; but the individual contests are now over and the general result indicates that whether it was due to the labor vote or something else, the men thus defeated were sternly opposed by the labor forces.

Many of them were democrats and as there was a slaughter of democrats all along the line, it would hardly be fair to say that "Labor did it." The republican party had a little more to do with bringing about the result than did the labor vote.

NIGHT PROWLERS AT LARGE

Many women throughout the city are in a state of terror on account of the reports of women being attacked in different parts of the city by marauders who lie in wait for them on the "dark streets" or wherever they find a favorable opportunity. Incidents of this kind have been reported to the police so often that it is high time the department took steps to find the culprits or drive them from the city. In some cases, it would seem, the offenders were not of sound mind; and this is another reason why the police should exercise the greatest vigilance in order to put a stop to such attacks. It may be that there are several men involved or that all the attacks have been made by one individual. The police should take steps to put an end to a condition that makes it rather hazardous for women to venture out at night in some parts of the city without an armed escort.

TOO MANY "REDS" NOW

It has been announced that the Bolshevik leaders in Russia have sent two representatives of the "Third Internationale" to the United States to organize soviet governments here. The names of the delegates have not thus far been mentioned but as soon as these emissaries land upon our shores, they should be promptly deported by the United States authorities. We have already too many of the Russian Reds and steps should be taken to lessen the number rather than permit its increase as proposed.

The countries that are showing anxiety to have the League of Nations provide for the common control of natural resources seem to be animated by the spirit of the old-time socialist—"I'll fork over my penny, you hand over your pound."

Lowell, comfortable and snug with the promise of an adequate supply of fuel for the winter, can spare some sympathy for its American neighbor, Lawrence, whose mayor has made a special appeal to the mines to furnish coal for the empty bins.

Lowell is richer because of the 25 years of service of Rev. Caleb E. Fisher as pastor of the First Universalist church, and we can hope that he will continue on the job to preach his fiftieth anniversary sermon.

Mr. Tumulty says that he has no plans for the future. What a tale of interest he could tell if he could only be persuaded to write on the theme, "Things I Have Seen and Heard as Presidential Secretary."

The Japs refuse to regard the senator from California as a philanthropist.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

There's no getting away from the fact that the men who are engaged in the motion picture industry are creating new amusements every day. I dare say that there's hardly a grown person in Lowell who doesn't remember the days only a few years and in some instances only a few months back when the local motion picture houses made their announcements of coming events on cracked glass slides, crudely printed and more or less not very poorly spelled. In the old days, before the projecting apparatus of the movie theatre had been perfected it was the custom of the management to run 15 or 20 slides dealing with such subjects as the qualifications of the theatre in question to lead all other movie houses in the city, announcements of pictures to be shown on certain dates. Then there would come a "flash" of the leading star in the production in question acting in one of the principal scenes of the picture. That gave the spectators a far more vivid idea of what the picture would be like than any impression which could be gained from the bare announcement of the title on a cracked slide.

Lowell Pastor Rounds Out

Quarter Century Pastorate

at First Universalist

Taking the parable of "The Sower," as set forth in the New Testament, as his subject, Rev. Caleb E. Fisher, D.D., preached a sermon yesterday in the First Universalist church in recognition of the completion of 25 years' service as pastor of the body.

"I have tried during the quarter of a century just closing, to sow the seed in the hearts of my congregation that will bear good fruit," he said. "I wonder if I have done any good of God and righteousness."

Occasionally there comes to me a letter from somebody and in it there is stated the belief that my words were of great benefit to the writer. Those that recall words of years ago and which fell of the heart made more cheerful, of the mind freed from sorrow, cause me to believe that my pastorate has not been in vain.

"You cannot count on what a minister is actually doing. The good that just where his seeds fall, and just what fruit is borne from them. There seems no special way of measuring it. Ministers meet many situations. You know sometimes when the first enter a church, there are people who almost get them up, and after a few weeks those same people seem sorry that they haven't actually done so."

"I will never step in God's world. You know it. It is almost impossible to keep the field free from the weeds. But some of the seeds fall on good soil, and they grow up and bear fruit. I feel that I have not for the world. Those who are ever attentive get the best crops. Sincerity is so necessary if we are to grow things of value. The sincere reformer, the sincere titian, the sincere business man, the sincere churchgoer—these and these only are the ones who show the first results of God's good seed sown in receptive hearts. We must be obedient to the laws of life, to the laws of God and of the world. Truth, if we are to bring forth good fruit."

"Whether I have failed in my quarter century of pastorate here I know not, but I feel that I have not for I have always held aloft the law of God, and I have always tried to do the best I knew how. If I have failed, perhaps my failure has been through an omission rather than a commission. But, maybe in the days to come, when I am no more, some seed that I have planted will bring forth an abundance of good fruit and the world be made the better for it."

The service was conducted by a quartet composed of Miss Ella Thompson, soprano; Mrs. E. L. Roberts, contralto; Michael Brennan, tenor; and Harry Needham, bass. Mrs. Roberts sang as soloist, "The Beautiful Gate" by Piccolomini. Numbers by the quartet were, "Still, Still With Thee," Rogers; "Great Is the Lord," Lohr; "Give Ear to My Word," Rogers; "Supplication," Scott.

WINCHESTER BOY

SHOT BY OFFICER

WINCHESTER, Nov. 29.—James Quigley, 15, of 17 Loring street, is at the Winchester hospital suffering from the effects of a bullet wound in his right thigh as a result of being shot by Patrolman William Rogers early Saturday evening.

William H. Harrison, 17, also of Winchester, who is said to have been with Quigley at the time, is held by the police on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny. A similar charge will be placed against Quigley when he is able to leave the hospital.

Saturday afternoon, residents of Kirk street told the police they had seen two boys entering the vacant house at No. 23 with a well-filled bag and then leave. Patrolman Rogers went to the house at dusk, and in wait for the boys to return. The boys came about 8:15 o'clock and when they attempted to move the bag, the policeman started for them from his hiding place. Both fled through an open window on the first floor. Harrison, the police say, cleared the window, but Quigley was hit by a shot which Rogers fired.

When the bullet was fired, the police, 60 pounds of lead were found. It is believed by the police that the lead was stolen from dwellings.

LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES

An entirely unexpected and consequently pleasing Thanksgiving surprise was arranged for the employees of the Greens drug stores in Lowell and Manchester on the day before the holiday. Just before leaving for their homes, each employee was presented a personal letter from Mr. Henry L. Green, president of Greens drug stores, Inc., announcing the following plan of life insurance: Those in the employ of the company one month $1,000; one year, $1,500; two years, $2,000; three years, $2,500; four years and over, $3,000.

EDINBURGH HONORS BELL

EDINBURGH, Nov. 29.—The freedom of the city was conferred today upon Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, who is a native of Edinburgh.

Lieut. Konieczny tried all the devices known to sailors to keep his ship in control against the buffeting of the gale, but his efforts were of no avail. The ship was thrown into a sea of white foam and the crew were whipped into a heightened force that made impossible use of a boat from ship to shore. Across the smother of seething waters the coast guards shot the line that crossed the mine sweeper's bow, and with a stouter line rigged, the rigged work of rescue was begun and was completed with the aid of the surf boat without injury to a man.

The storm struck hard both on the sea and shore, and all wires to the Guernet were put out of commission and communication was cut off until morning. A few fragmentary messages came out by radio during the night but they barely sketched the story of her crew and the heroic rescue work of Captain Glynn and the Guernet coast guards.

The storm struck hard both on the sea and shore, and all wires to the Guernet were put out of commission and communication was cut off until morning. A few fragmentary messages came out by radio during the night but they barely sketched the story of her crew and the heroic rescue work of Captain Glynn and the Guernet coast guards.

Lieut. Konieczny tried all the devices known to sailors to keep his ship in control against the buffeting of the gale, but his efforts were of no avail. The ship was thrown into a sea of white foam and the crew were whipped into a heightened force that made impossible use of a boat from ship to shore. Across the smother of seething waters the coast guards shot the line that crossed the mine sweeper's bow, and with a stouter line rigged, the rigged work of rescue was begun and was completed with the aid of the surf boat without injury to a man.

Enormous Damage Caused by Explosion

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Flames still envelop the ruins of a large acid factory at Vergato, Italy, where an explosion occurred Friday, says a Milan despatch. The disaster was greater than at first supposed, the havoc wrought being enormous and there being many victims. The explosions still continue. The factory made munitions during the war and shell dumps contributed to the havoc. Trains running toward Vergato from Milan have been suspended, as the majority of the railway bridges in the district affected by the explosion, have been destroyed or damaged.

Famous X-Ray Specialist Dead

PARIS, Nov. 29.—Dr. Charles Infroit, famous X-ray specialist, is dead, according to announcement. One of his hands became infected in 1898 as a result of his constant use of the X-ray, and since that time he underwent 24 operations, 22 of which were performed in the last 10 years. The last was on Aug. 1, when his right arm and left wrist were amputated. Dr. Infroit was a great surgeon and his announcement in 1915 in the Academy of Medicine of Paris that he had extracted a shrapnel bullet from the heart of a soldier, attracted much attention.

McQUHAE UNABLE TO APPEAR HERE

Owing to the indisposition of the soloist, the concert which was to have been given last evening at the Opera House by Allen McQuhae, tenor, was indefinitely postponed and those who had bought tickets were refunded their money.

Later yesterday afternoon Martin Hunt, who had made all preliminary arrangements for the appearance of the singer here, received a telegram from the Music League of America, Inc., announcing that Mr. McQuhae was suffering from an attack of tonsillitis and that it would be impossible for him to fill his Lowell engagement. The attack came on suddenly as a result of a cold and the extra tax put on the singer's voice during his eastern tour.

The advance sale of seats had been very large and Mr. McQuhae would have probably been greeted by a large audience had he come here. The management of the opera house had nothing to do with the concert other than to rent the theatre for the evening, but Manager J. W. Schaake made every effort to satisfy the disappointed ticketholders. It is possible that Mr. McQuhae may come to Lowell at a later date.

BILLERICA MEMORIAL

The erection of a memorial for the service men of Billerica was discussed at a recent meeting of the special committee appointed by the town, but no action was taken. The erection of a new building was discussed at length, but owing to the fact that the town has now several fine public buildings and also because of the high cost of labor and materials, the plan was abandoned and it was suggested that later, the addition to the town hall as recommended at the last special town meeting, be erected and dedicated to the memory of the world war veterans.

WITH THE FIREFMEN

The reflection of a stove fire in a window of the pool room at the corner of Middlesex and Grant streets yesterday afternoon, was responsible for the sounding of an alarm from box 35. The alarm was sent in by a passerby who, after seeing the reflection, did not stop to ascertain whether or not there was a fire. There were three alarms late Saturday afternoon and evening, one at 4:30 o'clock for a chimney fire at 23 Fourth street, the second at 5:45 o'clock for a dump fire in Stackpole street, and the third at 11 o'clock for a smoking stove at 63 Chapel street.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Mauder's cantata, "The Thanksgiving Song," was rendered beautifully by the soloists, Mrs. W. H. Peplin, soprano; Miss Marion Connors, contralto; George A. Blackader, tenor; and Warrant F. Reid, bass, at the Sunday evening services in the First Baptist church yesterday. Special appreciation was expressed for the soprano solo, "O Lovely Flowers," and for the duet, "The Hush of Fruitful Appear at His Command." The duet was rendered by Mrs. Peplin and Mr. Blackader. Baptismal and regular church services with sermon by Rev. Mr. Blackader, preceded the musical program.

VICTORY MEDAL

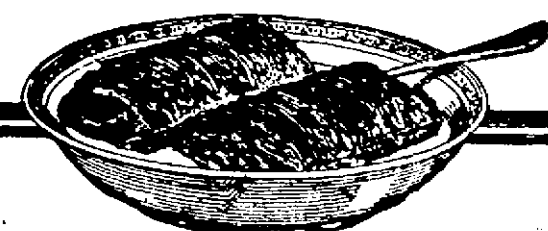

Ex-soldiers living in vicinity of Lowell may now obtain their war service medal, known as the "Victory Medal," in Lowell through establishment of an issuing office at 37 Central street. Heretofore it was necessary to go to Boston to secure this medal. This will be the only medal given by the government for service in the army during the world war and all are urged to apply for it now as it can be had through local office with very little delay whereas if applying for same is put off until after this office is closed it will be necessary to apply through Washington with a consequent delay of several months.

N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.
POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Nov. 26.-Next time E. E. Penzel, newly-elected state senator, runs for office, he will not promise, even in joke, to get married if the women will elect him.
He was too badly scared this time. Penzel is a personable bachelor of 35, with a law office at Popular Bluff. It was a speech he made at Piedmont.

E. E. PENZEL
Jocularly referred to his being a single man. Penzel, not to be abashed, gallantly assured his audience he had two aspirations in life: one was to go to the Missouri senate, and the other was to acquire a wife.

"And if the women will help me in the first one," he declared, "I will consider the other."
The women voted for Penzel, all right. Meanwhile, reports of the Piedmont speech had found interested readers. The election returns were hardly in before Penzel began to receive letters from women willing to help him carry out his contract.
At first they came from points near by; then from all over Missouri; then from other states. Some of the writers used the leap year privilege of direct proposal; others delicately indicated that if he would do the proposing he would not be turned down. Day by day his mail increased.

"The joke's on me," Senator Penzel told me.
"You see, every campaign has to take women into consideration now. That's all right too, and as it should be. So in making my campaign, I bought cigars for the men, of course."

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.
Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.
Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. Live and love.

But I also thought candy for the women.
"But as for that remark about getting married—I never dreamed of anybody's taking that seriously. But it got into the papers and I don't know when I'll hear the last of it."
"But if you're a reporter, for heaven's sake tell them I was only joking!"

Bilious? Take NR Tonight

Nature's Remedy is Better and Safer Than Calomel. Cleans Out System Without Gripping. Stops Sick Headaches. Guaranteed.

Bilious attacks, constipation, sick headaches, etc., are in the great majority of cases due to digestive trouble and no reasonable person can expect to obtain real or lasting benefit until the cause is corrected.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is a vegetable compound that acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, the purposes being to bring about healthy and harmonious action of all the organs of digestion and elimination. It acts promptly and thoroughly, yet so mildly and gently that there is never the slightest gripping or discomfort.

But that is not all. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) have a beneficial effect upon the entire body. By improving the process of digestion and assimilation, the nourishment is derived from food, the blood quality is enriched, vitality is increased and the whole system strengthened.
Once you get your body in this splendid condition, you need not take medicine every day—just take an NR Tablet occasionally, when indications of biliousness and constipation threaten, and you can always feel your best. Remember, keeping well is easier and cheaper than getting well.
Get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and try it. It is sold everywhere and recommended by young druggists.

LOWELL POLOISTS LOSE
IN SUNDAY GAMEPOLO SCHEDULE FOR THE WEEK

BRIDGEPORT, Nov. 29.—The first Sunday game in the American Polo League took place here yesterday afternoon with Bridgeport and Lowell as the contenders. The locals won over the Spindale City five to four. It was a real polo game and the large crowds were given many thrills, not only by the play of the two teams, but also by a near fight between Doherty and Cameron, who clinched but were prevented from doing any damage by the interference of their fellow players. The two teams saw-sawed in the first period and the locals had the edge by a lone runner. As the second frame opened Lowell evened up but the tie was broken by Quigley of the locals near the end of the period. In the concluding chapter Williams and Quigley each counted and the Lowell effort was futile. The score:

LOWELL	BRIDGEPORT
Davies, 1	16, B. Williams
Quigley, 2	2, Quigley
Donnelly, 3	3, C. Harrell
Doherty, 4	4, Cameron
Lovegreen, 5	5, Penco

GAS LIGHT TEAM WINS

In a very exciting match the Lowell Gas Light company's picked team defeated the five representing the Columbia Textile company on the Crescent alley Friday night. The bowlers on both teams were the highest average men in both leagues and throughout the evening they provided a great display of class. The strings over 100 especially in the Gas Light team seemed to come easy. This is one of the few matches, inter-league games rolled in this city during this season. The scores:

Columbia Textile—Powers, 259; McArthur, 258; Houston, 259; Panton, 253; Sweeney, 241; totals, 1431.

Lowell Gas Co.—Bradbury, 273; Munro, 311; Peck, 284; Bourke, 266; Curry, 327; totals, 1451.

C.M.A.C. GAMES

On the C.M.A.C. alleys, Team 5 took three points from Team 6 and won the contest by two pins in the last game. Team 3 took the points from Team 1 and won the contest by four pins. The summary:

Team 3—Sawyer, 254; Genest, 255; Rheume, 256; Beausoleil, 252; totals, 1017.

Team 1—Beausoleil, 251; H. McDonald, 216; H. Genest, 241; Trahan, 254; Boule, 274; totals, 1286.

Team 6—Dillon, 261; Blanchette, 257; Geoffrey, 254; Chadelaine, 235; Baker, 284; totals, 1374.

Team 5—Kil Lozano, 297; Allard, 276; Payette, 321; Beausoleil, 282; Dumais, 249; totals, 1376.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

If the Greenhedge eleven is open to the world why not give the Lincoln a return game in the evening? The Lincoln communication to The Sun, from the Greenhedge to make good. Answer through the columns of The Sun.

The Call'em

New England football followers have only one more game on the 1920 card—the one which comes at Braves field, Boston, next Saturday, between Boston college and Holy Cross. Not only will the outcome settle once and for all the championship of the eastern Jesuit colleges, but also will bring into competition two of the sections' strongest football elevens. Lowell is as much interested in the scrap as in any other game of the season, inasmuch as it is the home of many alumni of both schools and at the present time, the backfield berths on the Cavanaugh team. Many Lowell people will occupy seats in the Holy Cross sections, while scores of others will mix in with the B. C. cohorts.

Newton's "Superiority"

For some time to come we imagine Boston newspapers and others near the Hub will alibi Haverhill's victory over the powerful Newton team in the Harvard stadium on Saturday. In Sunday's papers, such a headline was seen: "Haverhill's Related Spurt Beats Superior Newton Eleven, 14-6." We were not fortunate enough to read the account after reading several accounts of it, for the life of us we cannot see the "superiority" of the Suburban League champions. Newton gave Haverhill a harder fight than any other team on the down-river school's schedule was expected, but the "superiority" part is hard indeed to find. It might just as well be admitted that Coach Brooks has a team of ten men at Haverhill this year, one which has reeled off 15 straight victories and has piled up a point total of amazing proportions.

Painting 'Em Green

Once more Dartmouth has christened its stadium for a worthy foe. Its victory Saturday on the Pacific coast over the strong Washington eleven by the decisive score of 25 to 7, is but a minor item in a long list of football triumphs of Harvard and Syracuse. Also Saturday's game brought Capt. Jim Robertson's football career to a glorious close. The Green leaders had three quarters of the four quarters and a great power on the attack and defense.

Yale and Lowell High

If you will pardon the comparison, this year's Lowell high team was much similar to Yale. Each had an individual power, minus that cardinal requisite of how to apply it for the good of the whole team. Lawrence at least had this consolation, that his team might win one game in 15 years anyway.

PROFESSIONAL MEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE

In the last contests of the Professional Men's Bowling league, the Lawrence Overseers' team had a victory over the United States Bankers; City Hall four from the Bankers; and the Dentists three from the United States Bankers. The highest team single was 433 by Fairburn's market, the highest individual was 117 by Malone of the Bankers, with Horne of the dentists coming second with 108. TUMULTY OFFERED

PLACE ON BENCH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president, has been offered by Mr. Wilson an appointment to the customs court of appeals, but has reached no decision with regard to its acceptance. This was disclosed last night in a statement issued by Mr. Tumulty, prompted by various published reports as to what he planned to do when his duties at the White House cease next March. The statement said that he planned to enter a law partnership here with former Representative Ansherry of Ohio.

"I have made no definite plans for the future and have not under consideration a law partnership of any kind," Mr. Tumulty said. "It is true that the president has generously offered to me the judgeship vacant by the death of Chief Justice Montgomery of the customs court of appeals. I have the matter now under consideration, but have reached no decision regarding it."

U. S. AMBASSADOR

IS "BEST GUN"

PARIS, Nov. 29.—Hugh C. Wallace, the American ambassador, proved the "best gun" of 15 prominent hunters who attended President Millerand's first official game shooting party in the Forest of Rambouillet yesterday. Mr. Wallace accounted for 125 peccots of game out of a total of 650 for the entire party. Marshal Petain was second and Gen. Subal third. Marshal Foch was among the "also rans." Baron de Gallier d'Hestroy, the Belgian ambassador, and Prefect Andraud of the department of the Seine were members of the party.

President Millerand, like ex-President Polk, is not a hunter. He was represented by Gen. Lafon.

GOV. COOLIDGE COMING

Will Address Chamber of Commerce Members at the Casino Tonight

With accommodations provided for 550 members and guests and every detail arranged, officials of the chamber of commerce are looking forward with anticipation to the big "national night" to be held this evening at the Casino in Thorndike street when a reception will be tendered to Governor Calvin Coolidge, vice president-elect of the United States.

At noon today President William N. Goodell and Secretary George P. Wells announced that everything was in readiness for the affair and that indications pointed to the biggest event of its kind yet conducted by the chamber.

Governor Coolidge will arrive in Lowell at 5:35 and after an informal reception at the Yvick club will be accompanied to the Casino by a committee from the chamber. From 6 to 6:30 a formal reception will be held and then the members and guests will sit down to a banquet. The speaking will begin about 7:30 and the evening's program will be completed about 9:30.

The speakers, in addition to Governor Coolidge, will be Congressman Robert Luce, Congressman John Jacob Rogers and Mayor Perry D. Thompson. President Goodell of the chamber of commerce will preside. The Casino has been appropriately decorated for the occasion and there will be plenty of orchestral music and community singing under the leadership of Albert Edmund Brown.

Business dress will be worn and a detailed check system of seating has been arranged so that each person will have his own reserved seat. Provision has been made for the parking of automobiles under police protection in Thorndike street.

THE LOCAL MILLS

Appleton Company is Still Running Full Time

The only Lowell cotton mill that is running full time at present is the Appleton Co. and this is due to the fact that the company is still working on old orders, while some new orders have come in recently. The plant shut down last Wednesday night for the remainder of the week, but the curtailment was for last week only. The agent stated this morning that as far as he knows the plant will be kept in operation all of this week and he feels that there are enough orders on hand to keep the help busy for some time. Of course, he said, things may change over night.

The Massachusetts and the Merrimack Mfg. Co. will shut down Wednesday night for the remainder of the week and this half-time proposition will be kept up until further notice or until business is better. The agents of these two mills are unable to state how long present conditions will prevail.

The Hamilton Mfg. Co., which shut down last Wednesday, will reopen tomorrow morning, but the officials of the mill were unable to state this morning whether or not the plant will be kept in operation the remainder of the week. At the Ray State Cotton Corp. the help are kept busy but three days a week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The superintendent of the plant stated this morning business may pick up around the first of January and then again there may not be anything doing in the line of improvement until February or March. Agent Rawlinson of the Tremont & Suffolk mill, which has been operating but three days a week for the past few weeks, stated this morning the plant may operate four days this week, but he was not certain.

Attempt to Fire Lumber Yard

he had ordered the galleries closed as a result of information he had received from the chief commissioner today.

Home Secretary Short's allusion to the situation in Liverpool being well in hand, presumably means that measures have been taken for safeguarding property there against further attempts at destruction. There have been no reports of further outbreaks after Saturday night's incendiary fires on the docks, which involved well towards a score of warehouses and destroyed at least two of them.

News advices on the Liverpool situation have been meagre since Sunday's accounts of the incendiary and accompanying shooting came to hand, and up to this afternoon, nothing had been received from usual news sources as to any occurrences in that city last night or today.

Stage "Mob Scene"

LONDON, Nov. 28.—What a first might have been mistaken for a genuine move upon the government buildings in Whitehall, was made today when a small crowd attempted to pass the barriers recently erected by the police at the entrance to Downing street and King Charles street. The crowd, however, it developed, was made up of about 150 supernumeraries sent by a motion picture company for photographic purposes only.

The "mob" whose attempt at the barricade was a mild one, was dispersed by the police, the camera man meantime cranking vigorously.

TO ASK ITALY TO AID IRELAND

ROME, Nov. 28.—Members of the Italian chamber of deputies and senators have received a strong protest concerning the latest serious events in Ireland from the Irish clergy, headed by Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh. Facts enumerated in the protest and the language used have produced a profound impression, especially among members of the Catholic party, who have taken a decided attitude in favor of Ireland.

It is expected interpellations will be presented in the chamber and senate asking the government if it is not possible for a friendly power to interfere, either directly or through the League of Nations, to obtain a solution that will end the present condition of affairs in Ireland.

ACCIDENTS OVER THE WEEK END

The following accidents were reported to the police over the week end:

MINE SWEEPER SWAN WRECKED

Famous as War-Time Figure for Its Part in Laying Mine Barrage

Crew of 56 Brought to Safety Through Mountainous Seas by Coast Guards

DUNBURY, Nov. 29.—The mine sweeper Swan, famous as a war-time figure for its part in laying the North Sea mine barrage, was a wreck on the Guernet sand spit today with her crew safe ashore, as a result of the life-saving exploits of Captain Jack Glynn and his Guernet coast guard crew. After the Swan was driven on the shoals off the Guernet in a northeast gale, late yesterday, the guards of the Guernet station, brought the 56 men aboard to safety through mountainous seas, some of them almost drowned by the storm-driven waters.

By breeches buoy and surf boat, the rescue work was done. Captain Glynn had his rigging for the breeches ferry up and working in a fifty and with each man transferred from the Swan to shore gathered strength for the rescue that remained to be done. It

WORK BEGINS ON CENTRAL BRIDGE

Work on the reconstruction of the roadway of Central bridge began this morning. In three weeks street railway cars will again be running over the structure. Engineer Stephen Kearney believes.

The bridge has been closed to street car and other heavy traffic since November 11. In the interim Centralville residents have had no car service over the structure. The reconstruction of the roadway is being done by the city. The city has been asked to reconstruct the roadway of the bridge and not for repairs. It is also specified that the money is to be used in an extreme emergency involving the safety and health of a large portion of the citizens of Lowell.

This order will be presented at tomorrow's meeting of the municipal council and undoubtedly will be passed. It will then be submitted to the First National bank of Boston for approval and there is every expectation that in its new wording it will receive favorable consideration.

If it does not meet with the approval of the bank's attorneys, the alternative will be to use the maintenance funds of the street department for the work.

$100,000 CLOTHING STOCK

OFFERED THE PUBLIC AT A BIG LOSS

What is probably the largest sale of Men's, Women's and Boys' Clothing, Hats and Furnishings ever held in this city was started last Friday by the Merrimack Clothing Company, across from City Hall.

The entire stock of this well known store is being offered to the public at about one half its worth and as the public fully appreciates the high character of the goods handled by this store, the response was tremendous. During the first two days of the sale, the store was visited by approximately 5000 patrons and the management predicts that over 30,000 people will benefit by the reductions during the sale.

WOULD ISSUE NEW STOCK

Lowell Electric Light Corporation Wants New Stock Issue of $1,352,000

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Nov. 29.—A Stewart Pratt of Boston, president of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation, was before the department of public utilities this morning with a request that the corporation be permitted to issue new corporation stock to the amount of $1,352,000. This contemplates an issue of 11,764 shares at $115 per share. The proceeds of the issue are to be used in paying off a part of the corporation's floating debt which amounts to $1,075,000, in addition to which the company is expending $1,235,000 for the installation of new machinery and equipment.

He explained that the stock issue asked for will still leave a large floating debt that practically doubles the outstanding stock and appears to be about the maximum that can be placed on the market under present conditions.

Asked what stock is selling for at the present time, he said there had been no sales for a long time, but if a customer came into the company to buy stock the corporation would try to obtain it for him at about $135 a share.

Prior to 1915, he said, the company paid a dividend of 8 per cent, a 9 per cent dividend in 1916, and a 10 per cent dividend the following year and since.

INTERMEYER ASKED TO ACT FOR ALLAN RYAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Allan A. Ryan, who several months ago, aroused the financial world through his operations in the Motor stock, today announced that he had asked Samuel Intermeier to take charge of the readjustment of his financial affairs.

A conference of bankers representing the largest creditors of Mr. Ryan was scheduled for today.

Comptroller Williams' Statement
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Comptroller of the Currency, Williams announced today that the $50,000 loan to Allan A. Ryan of New York, or his associates, former governor of Massachusetts, Sherman H. Whipple, Attorney General J. Weston Allen, General Frank S. Slocum, William J. Thompson, Charles F. Johnson, Charles F. Chase, Jr., and Miles Dawson of New York. The judges are Chief Justice Arthur P. Hays, Henry K. Bailey, John C. Crosby, James B. Carroll and Charles F. Johnson.

For hours before the proceedings began, people were at the courthouse awaiting admission, for it had been announced that only 125 spectators could be admitted. Some of them were patiently in the cold of the early morning until the doors were opened.

The early comers quickly filled the seats and later arrivals jammed the corridors. Some had come from as far away as London, England, and Los Angeles, Cal., to hear these cases argued, and many were disappointed at their failure to get within the courtroom.

After Judge Hughes had been formally introduced by Mr. Whipple, his associate counsel for the trustees of the church, Edwin A. Krauthoff moved that the Christian Science Monitor be directed by the court to print in full the arguments of all counsel.

Chief Justice Hughes replied that there was no occasion for the court to make any ruling in the matter. Former Gov. Bates then proceeded with his argument in behalf of the directors of the church.

Another of the cadets is missing. The cadets under District Inspector Crake, were patrolling in two lorries when they were ambushed.

30 LAWYERS APPEAR

Arguments in Christian Science Cases Begun Before the Full Bench Today

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Arguments in the Christian Science cases which involve the question of internal control of the entire church organization, were begun today before five justices of the supreme court—the full bench. In addition to the importance of the issues, the proceeding was noteworthy because of the eminence and the number of counsel assembled. Some 20 attorneys were present to represent the various interests in the five actions that had been grouped for argument, the number including former Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States supreme court, John L. Bates, former governor of Massachusetts, Sherman H. Whipple, Attorney General J. Weston Allen, General Frank S. Slocum, William J. Thompson, Charles F. Johnson, Charles F. Chase, Jr., and Miles Dawson of New York. The judges are Chief Justice Arthur P. Hays, Henry K. Bailey, John C. Crosby, James B. Carroll and Charles F. Johnson.

For hours before the proceedings began, people were at the courthouse awaiting admission, for it had been announced that only 125 spectators could be admitted. Some of them were patiently in the cold of the early morning until the doors were opened.

The early comers quickly filled the seats and later arrivals jammed the corridors. Some had come from as far away as London, England, and Los Angeles, Cal., to hear these cases argued, and many were disappointed at their failure to get within the courtroom.

DANIELS ORDERS PROBE

Calls for Trial of Lieut. Commander Boucher by General Court Martial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The recent unrest among the natives in the naval controlled island of Samoa, in the Pacific, was "influenced by Commander Kall, Lieut. Commander Boucher and an American citizen named Greene," said a despatch received today by the navy department from Capt. Waldo Evans, the new governor of the island, and head of a court appointed to inquire into the trouble.

Capt. Evans recommended that Lieut. Commander Boucher be court-martialed on charges of "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman; conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline; drunk on duty; disrespect to president, secretary of navy and superior officers."

Secretary Daniels replied to the despatch authorizing the trial of Commander Boucher.

Capt. Evans said that Greene would be deported as undesirable, but no recommendation was made as to Commander Kall. The captain added that there was no evidence of "legal, financial or political irregularity" in the administration of the affairs of the island.

Commander Boucher preferred charges against Commander Warren J. Terhune, former governor of Samoa, who committed suicide just before the naval court under Capt. Evans arrived at the island. Secretary Daniels said that in his opinion, the court had completely exonerated Commander Terhune.

Two cases, growing out of an auto collision in Wilmington August 12, 1919, were on joint trial before Judge Elias Bishop and a jury in the superior court today. The plaintiffs in one of the cases is Perley A. Cluff of Dracut. Dominick Tamagno of Boston is the defendant.

Mr. Cluff, in his declaration, alleges that he was driving a truck on the highway between Wilmington and New Bedford when it was struck by an auto alleged to have been negligently driven by the defendant. Mr. Cluff seeks to recover for damages to his truck.

The second suit is brought by Mrs. Anna Manahan of Wilmington against Perley A. Cluff. The plaintiff is a passenger in the Tamagno car at the time of the accident. She claims that she was permanently injured as a result of the collision, and seeks to recover compensation for her hurts and sufferings. Edward J. Tierney appears as counsel.

COOLIDGE CALLS SPECIAL SESSION

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—A proclamation summoning the legislature to meet in special session beginning Dec. 7 was issued by Governor Coolidge today. The only subject for consideration mentioned in the document is the revision of the general laws which will be presented by a recess committee. Since last June the committee has been examining the work done by a special commission which began a revision of the laws in 1917.

THE SONG OF THE SHIRT
"TRUTH may lie at the bottom of the well, but in one instance it stands in sight of everybody with eyes to see. In the race of high price the Saved Dollar outstrips the Squandered Dollar. As one authority points out, there are really two kinds of dollars—the Spending Dollar and the Investment Dollar. Paradoxical though the statement seems, the less the dollar becomes worth in commodity purchasing power, the higher it stands as an investing unit. To simplify the illustration, the dollar of today will buy about a third as much in the way of a car as it did previously to the war, but it will now buy twice as much in the Equity of the Enterprise which stands behind the silk shirt or other process of manufacturing."

"This homely little lesson in economics should not be overlooked. You can have one silk shirt or other article of imagined worth for a given number of dollars, or you can put the same number of dollars away or hire them out to work, for several years, at the Savings Department of Middlesex Trust Co. for instance, and with them and their accretions you can then have two or three silk shirts, or one such garment and a considerable number of the Original Dollars left."

British Authorities Declare Gunmen From U. S. in Londonderry and Liverpool

Claim to Have Established Connection With Sinn Fein Headquarters

LONDON, Nov. 29.—"American gunmen" have appeared in Londonderry, according to advices received here today. Previous reports have said such mercenaries were in Dublin and other Irish cities. The military authorities of Londonderry are taking all precautions in the event of attempted assassinations.

The police of Liverpool, where fires occurred Saturday, believe "American gunmen" have invaded that city, according to despatches. The police claim to have established connection between Sinn Fein headquarters and numerous strangers who are idling about the streets in groups of two or three, and having the appearance of desperadoes.

TROOPS IN CONTROL OF STRIKE ZONE

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Federal troops brought into Mingo county at the request of Governor Cornwell, were placed today at strategic points throughout the district, where miners have been on strike since last July. No disorders were reported.

The question of placing the country under martial law was still under discussion. The state authorities desire that such action be taken only if the failure of county authorities to meet the disorders of the past few weeks was explained today by Judge R. D. Bailey of the circuit court, as due to lack of money with which to pay a sufficient force of deputy sheriffs.

Coal operators estimated today that of the 5000 miners in Mingo county, the strikers number between 1500 and 2000 and said that production increased from 3000 tons in July, when the strike was called, to 50,000 tons in the first half of November.

David Fowler, representing the United Mine workers, denied that the strike was broken, declaring: "We have just begun to fight."

United Mine workers established by the United Mine workers for striking miners and their families, are well.

INTER-ALLIED MEMORIAL DAY ON MAY 30

PARIS, Nov. 29.—Recommendation that the veteran organizations of all the allied countries observe May 30 as "Inter-Allied Memorial Day" was one of the first acts of the international council holding together the Veterans' associations of the allied nations, which was organized yesterday by delegations representing the allied countries. The officers elected are: President, Charles Bertrand of France; vice presidents, Cabot Ward, United States and Col. Crossfield, Great Britain; treasurer, Signor Battolini, Italy.

The groundwork of a constitution, members of the council, who are self-appointed will sit only until the home organizations appoint permanent representatives. Each country will be allowed a maximum of five members but only one vote.

The constitution includes a plan for the council to have two representatives in each country one accredited to the government and the other to the press. An inter-allied membership card also is contemplated, but the country in which an inter-allied card originates must repay assistance given the holder in another country.

BISHOP CANEVAN RESIGNS
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—Bishop J. P. Regis Canevan of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Roman Catholic church, has resigned because of ill health, it was announced today.

Bishop Canevan has consented to act as administrator of the diocese until his successor has taken charge.

The resignation was tendered last spring, but was not accepted until today, an effort having been made to have him reconsider.

Bishop Canevan is 67 years old.

MANDATES COMMISSION

Council of League of Nations Approves Final Draft of Project.

GENEVA, Nov. 29.—(By Associated Press)—The council of the League of Nations today approved the final draft of the project for the permanent mandates commission, definitely accepting the tentative proposal to have the commission comprise five non-mandatory and four mandatory powers. It was decided that all the members be chosen by the council.

The permanent commission, it is forecast, will probably meet once a year at Geneva and review the administration of the mandate-holding countries.

Consideration of a proposed invitation to the United States for participation in the discussion over disarmament was deferred to a later date.

Appointment of a successor to Sir Reginald Dwyer, as high commissioner at Danzig was before the meeting of the council.

Discussion of Vilna and the detachment of troops from member nations will send into Lithuania, as well as the organization of a medical force to be dispatched to Vilna, were also to be considered by the council today.

Among the matters coming before the assembly this week is the question of admitting Austria and Bulgaria to the league. Despite the strong opposition of Serbia, Rumania and Greece, a large majority of the delegates seem in favor of admitting Bulgaria. There is virtually no opposition in the case of Austria, the application of which probably will be favorably acted upon in a few days.

Assembly delegates are awaiting with keen interest the probable discussion tomorrow of a motion proposed by George Nicoll Barnes of Great Britain, regarding the conflict between Poland and Russia. It is reported he attempted to put the league in a position of defending its inactivity in that war, but there was opposition on the part of the delegates not to permit the subject to reach any decisive issue.

For the last two days European delegates have been dividing their attention between the sessions of the assembly and the meeting of Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Wilson. The decision of France and England regarding Greece and the Near East is awaited with concern. Many delegates continue to discuss the probability of Greece losing its place on the league if Constantine returns to the throne.

Most of the delegates have the impression that the first reply of President Wilson to the council's note relative to Armenia, will be perfunctory, but committing the United States in any way, nor definitely rejecting the offer. An answer is expected to arrive in a few days.

VOTING HOURS ON CITY ELECTION DAY

The polls will probably be open from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m. city election day, Dec. 14, it was announced by the board of election commissioners this morning.

Although the board has not yet taken formal action on the matter, it is expected that a petition from Charles J. Morse, one of the aldermanic nominees, asking that the time of closing the polls be extended from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. is looked on with favor. These hours were in vogue at the state election here for the first time and proved the authorities say, a decided convenience to the voters.

SLAYER OF 100 HUNS HELD FOR ROBBERY

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Wassell Cobell, a former soldier who said the pistol he carried was presented to him by Col. William Donovan of the 16th Infantry for having killed about 100 Germans during the war, was charged in court today with having held up and robbed Mary Zayvostsky, 60 years old. She complained that he tripped and choked her and then took $600 which she carried in her stocking. Cobell was held in $2,500 bail for trial.

ATTEMPT TO FIRE LUMBER YARD

London Reports Men Caught in Act of Preparing to Set Fire in Finsburg

Attempt Almost Coincident With Breaking Out of Fires in Liverpool

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Half a dozen men who were preparing to set fire to a large lumber yard in the district of Finsburg, less than a mile north of London bridge, were surprised by a policeman Saturday night. This attempt was almost coincident with the breaking out of incendiary fires in Liverpool.

The policeman challenged a loiterer, who immediately attacked the officer and shouted for help. Five men, with revolvers answered his call, emerging from behind some empty wagons. They rushed the policeman, who was compelled to liberate his man. All the men escaped. Searching behind the wagons, the policeman found cotton waste soaked with gasoline had been pushed through a gateway of a lumber yard, and he also discovered two revolvers and 100 cartridges. One of the supposed incendiaries was later arrested.

The man, who said he was William Robinson, a student, 20 years old, was arraigned in police court today. A detective testified that in Robinson's rooms he found Irish self-determination league and Gaelic league literature. Robinson was remanded for a week.

Damage at Liverpool

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 29.—(By The Associated Press)—Fifteen warehouses in Liverpool and Bootle, a suburb, principally cotton warehouses, were set on fire Saturday night. Two of the cotton warehouses in Liverpool were burned out. Gasoline cans and paraffin were found about the premises.

It was said in police quarters that there was strong evidence that the fires were the work of Sinn Feiners. Some shooting occurred after the outbreak of the flames.

Constables on the scene were fired at and bullets passed through the clothing of some of them, but none was injured. One civilian was shot dead. Five men were placed under arrest in connection with the incendiary outbreak.

Officers Threatened

LONDONDERRY, Nov. 29.—A number of military officers here have received threatening documents threatening them with a false statement that they suffered by the British officers murdered in Dublin, unless they leave Ireland. The military forces are taking precautions to protect the threatened officers.

Short Blames Sinn Fein

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Edward Shortt, the home secretary, declared in the house of commons this afternoon, in reply to questions regarding Saturday night's incendiary dock fires in Liverpool, that there seemed no doubt that the fires were the result of an organized conspiracy in which members of the Sinn Fein party were engaged.

According to the latest information, the home secretary, the situation in Liverpool was well in hand. The public galleries of the house of commons were closed today, and the disclosure of an alleged Sinn Fein conspiracy for operations in England.

Speaker Lowther stated in the commons, in answer to a question, that

REIGN OF TERROR IN IRELAND

London Editor Arraigns Government for Appalling Atrocities

Government Resorts to Murder, Arson and False Charges of Sinn Fein Plots

Premier and Carsonism Held Responsible for This Disgrace to Civilization

In view of the reported incendiarism at the docks of Liverpool charged against the Sinn Fein, but without any fact of evidence, from a perusal of the following article by a London editor, it will be readily seen that the government officials are in dire straits and are resorting to the most unparalleled infamies to discredit every newspaper and every British subject who criticizes the government policy or the atrocities in Ireland. The city of Cork has been practically destroyed by the Black and Tans, the total loss by incendiary fires in the past week amounting to over $1,000,000. When volunteers tried to stop the progress of the flames, the Black and Tans drove them off. It is hard to believe such charges, and they do not represent British sentiment as the subjoined article will show. They are the work of the imperialists, militarists and Carsonism of which Lloyd George is the tool as Editor Gardner shows in the following article:

THE HORRORS IN IRELAND

By A. G. Gardner.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—I do not think that in the darkest days of the war so heavy a shadow hung over us as there hangs over us now. Then, at least, our conscience was clear. We had a good cause; we had a united people. If there was a break in the clouds we rejoiced together. If things looked desperate and failure was imminent, at least we felt that we could lose honorably. We might be beaten, but we would not be disgraced.

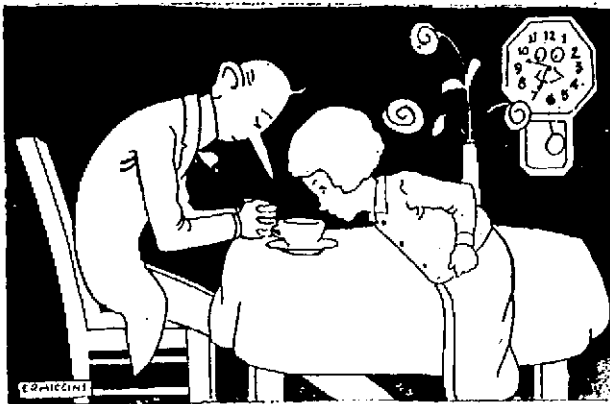

But now horror succeeds horror. In these days we seem to pass into the very valley of humiliation. There is no break in the sky, no promise of anything except more horror, deeper shame. As we are rent asunder, a profounder gulf divides the nation than ever before in the memory of living

by Olive Robert Barton

NICK DISCOVERS SOMETHING

Nick looked around carefully at everything in Scribble Scratch's dining room. The fairymen still sat at the table, snoring loudly and showing no signs of waking. It was very strange, the whole thing, and the more the little boy gazed at Wasp Weasel's paddy-track on the floor, the more sure he became that something was wrong and that Wasp knew more about it than anybody else.

Suddenly he began to sniff. What was that strange smell? It was like a weed, yet there wasn't a sign of a weed, nor flower even, anywhere. Being full and quite cool, the doors and windows were shut, so the smell couldn't be coming in from the outside.

Next Nick discovered that the closer he came to the table, the stronger the smell became. He sniffed and sniffed and the more he sniffed the more sure he became that it was something of smelled funny, too! Because, as Nick reasoned, it had the queer cream in it. All this time the fairymen slept on. His glasses had fallen off his nose completely, and his stiff collar was beginning to crinkle over. But nothing bothered him. He snifled peacefully as though dreaming about a circus or something. The mantel clock pointed to a quarter of ten now, but the little schoolmaster wasn't bothering any more about Meadow Grove school than about what he was going to have for dinner next Sunday. Only I hope it's good one.

The sitting test it should end in unprecedented scenes of violence, gives you an idea of this humiliating assembly.

I ask the American people to believe that it does not represent the nation. It represents the mob. It represents the ignorant rich. It represents militarists and the imperialists. It does not represent the mass of sober opinion, which is shocked and outraged by the hideous plunge into barbarism. The voice of liberalism has declared with overwhelming emphasis against reprisals after the Beaufort conference this week. Organized labor is solidly on the same side. The churches, futile though they have been since the war began, are beginning to share the indignant cry of shame.

But how can these forces make themselves felt if they could compel an election. I am confident that this parliament would be shattered and

RHEUMATISM--RELIEF

From Its Dreadful Pains and Aches, Stiffness, Swelling—

Is properly to be sought in a good blood medicine because authorities say rheumatism is a blood disease; acid has entered the blood, settling in the muscles and joints. That's what makes the sharp, sudden, shooting pains, causing you to jump and wringe in agony.

Hood's Sarsaparilla comprises remedies that every physician prescribes for rheumatism, combined with other blood-purifying, tonic and strength-building ingredients in a formula vastly superior in make-up and in curative power. It does give positive relief. Thousands say so. So will you. For a free laxative take Hood's Pills.—Adv.

that the government's policy would collapse in a day. But there are no means of forcing an election, and while this parliament lasts Lloyd George and Carsonism control the machine and all the resources of the terror.

Sinn Fein Crime Magnified

And not only do they control the machine directly or indirectly, but they control the press also. The time-light is turned on every crime by the Sinn Fein, that will stir the country, sitting as a jury. It leaves all the crimes of the government in the shadow. Compare the attention given the horrible assassination of the officers in Dublin with the treatment—the horrible massacre—in connection with the football game in Croke Park in Dublin last Sunday and this fatal policy, illuminating one side and ignoring the other, will be apparent. Even the terrible denunciation of reprisals delivered by Mr. Asquith at the National Liberal club was practically suppressed by most of the London newspapers. Control of the press by hidden forces and its concentration into half a dozen irresponsible hands is becoming one of the greatest menaces to the nation. It is bringing ruin to Ireland today; it will bring ruin to England tomorrow.

There is no longer any pretence that the reprisals are not official. That pretence was maintained for months, but Mr. Asquith's exposure of the Weekly Summary, the secret circular issued by the forces of the crown in Ireland, has disposed of it. The Weekly Summary breathes incitement to reprisals on every page.

And day by day Lloyd George repeats that the "murder gang" is being tracked down. Probably many of them are being shot, and it is possible that all of them will be rooted out. But they are not being rooted out by reprisals which fall on the innocent. For example, two of the players shot down in the massacre on the Croke Park ground were men who had served in the war.

Reprisals Help the Sinn Fein

No one pretends that the shooting of unarmed men and children, or the burning of creameries, or midnight murders of responsible citizens like Mr. Coleman of Cork, have anything to do with rooting out the "murder gang." The only effect of these crimes is to stir moderate opinion in Ireland into the arms of the Sinn Fein. Lord Dunsany spoke plain, indisputable truths in the house of lords last Tuesday when he said that originally the Sinn Fein was a movement of republicanism. They have become republican in sheer despair.

And all Ireland outside Ulster is being driven to the Sinn Fein in despair also. We have made the nation our enemy. By our reprisals we have made enemies of thousands who desired to be our friends and who had nothing to do with the Sinn Fein and who are as horrified at the Sinn Fein crimes as any Englishman.

This is Lloyd George's achievement. Now we wait for his dreadful fruits. It may be that the reign of terror will produce a semblance of peace. It is more likely to reduce the whole country to complete and irreparable anarchy. But if it produces a peace of exhaustion, it will still have failed. No one believes we can hold Ireland permanently by the bayonet. No one believes the country will attempt to hold it so permanently. This government may end next month. It may last two years more, but the day it goes to the country will be the last day of government in Ireland by terror.

Expectants Liberals to Win

I contend that the liberal mind of England always wins. I believe that it was never surer of winning than on this one great argument. Next Saturday there will be such a meeting in Albert hall here as this country never saw before. It will be a meeting of the flower of the nation called to denounce the greatest iniquity ever perpetrated in the name of the British government and to proclaim peace in Ireland as a national policy. And in every city in the country similar meetings are afoot.

The nation is organizing into two camps. Between them there can be no compromise, for one stands for tyranny and the other for freedom. It will be a hard fight; maybe it will be a long fight. We shall sup full of horrors before it is finished. But I do not doubt the issue. Liberal England, defeated again and again, will yet achieve the emancipation of Ireland. And victory may be nearer than the hideous circumstances of today permit us to hope.

POLISH WORKERS FOR RED CROSS

The Roll Call of Red Cross membership in Polish homes in the city now totals 514 members. These were secured through the efforts of 25 volunteer Polish workers.

To start the thing along the excitement, orders held a mass meeting in the Polish hall in Cedar street and the enthusiasm displayed there was indicative of success. One of the reasons for the whole-hearted support is that the Red Cross has been and still is of great assistance to the Polish army in Poland.

The roll call ends this evening. All the members of the various teams and volunteer workers are urged to report their memberships during the day to George B. Chandler, Red Cross treasurer, in the Union National bank in Merrimack street opposite Central.

$75,000 FIRE LOSS AT SALEM—FIREMEN HURT

SALEM, Nov. 29.—Fire, smoke and water in the old customhouse on Central street, the Shawmut building at the corner of Central and Essex streets, and the Mansfield building at 191 Essex street, early yesterday morning caused damage estimated at $75,000.

Two firemen were injured while fighting the fire. Ladderman James O'Brien received a bad gash in his right hand, and Lieut. Collins sustained a sprained ankle by making a misstep.

The old customhouse, which was built in 1855, had been used for 50 years as a business block.

The fire apparently originated in a small frame structure in the rear of 191 Essex street and spread to the cellar in the northern part of the customhouse block. The fire was discovered at 3 o'clock and an alarm from box 21 was followed by a general alarm.

All of the buildings damaged were three stories high, with several frame structures in the rear which narrowly escaped destruction. The fire rapidly worked up the stairway at the northern end of the old customhouse and spread through an opening on the third floor to apartments occupied by H. P. Alley in the Shawmut building.

The first floor of the Shawmut block was occupied by Herbert D. Rice, dealer in men's furnishings goods, who also had storerooms in the customhouse building. His loss is estimated at $50,000 and is said to be covered by insurance.

The Brockton shoe store at 6 Central street was stocked for the holiday trade. It is stated that the loss entailed will aggregate $15,000.

On the second floor of the customhouse block a specialty store is located.

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief,—yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—LILLIAN THAYER, 834 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. I surely did wonder for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weakness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—MRS. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

PRIMATE OF IRELAND DENOUNCES MURDERS

DUBLIN, Nov. 29.—Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, in a pastoral letter, read yesterday in all the churches of the archdiocese, denounces the murders in Ireland and declares that if a balance were struck between the Sunday's assassination of officers and the shooting by the police in Croke Park he believes it "should be given against the forces of the crown."

The cardinal's letter scathingly arraigns the methods the government is pursuing, but warns the people "against any association, secret or open, which would lead them into any disorders or crime."

The cardinal, in the letter, says the ardent hopes of the Irish people for peace are shared by European and other countries. In support of this he cites a letter from the archbishop of Malines and all the bishops in Belgium conveying their cordial sympathy to the Irish people. The letter proceeds to condemn in the strongest terms Sunday's tragedies, declaring Ireland deplored and detested these "cold-blooded murders," which, he said, "no object could excuse and no motive justify," and adding: "The perpetrators of such crimes are not real patriots but enemies of their countries."

Turning to the Croke park affair, the cardinal says the forces of "the crown" were bound by their offices to protect and not to destroy the people, especially those within their rights and innocent of any offense.

"The assassination of individuals is a detestable crime and a terrible outrage against God's law," he continues, "but it is a greater shock to humanity, a graver outrage against the divine ordinance whereby human life is protected, to turn lethal weapons against defenseless, unarmed, closely packed multitudes."

With reference to reprisals, Cardinal Logue says lives and property are being sacrificed in cases where there has been no outrage which could give color to retaliation and that the activities of the military were being carried into districts which hitherto had been considered peaceful.

CHELMSFORD NEWS

ABANDON "JAKE" Sweet Spirits of Nitre Favor- ite "Booze" Substitute

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Nov. 29.—Seekers after the joys of the "howling cup" are abandoning "Jake" and other substitutes for sweet spirits of nitre, it became known today.

The latest move of the do-or-die followers of the defunct John Harbory was disclosed today by the state director of registration in medicine, William S. Briry. The statement was made coincidentally with the issuance of a warning by Director Briry to the effect that continued indulgence in the practice of drinking sweet spirits of nitre will seriously undermine a person's health and ultimately bring about death.

"If 'Jake' is injurious to health, this drug is a thousand times worse," said Mr. Briry today. His attention was called to the novel use for the drug by the unusually large sales which have been made during the past year. Before prohibition went into effect not more than a few ounces of the drug went bought at a time, he says. Now he finds that it is being purchased by the pint, quart and gallon.

"Its usual use is for treating colds, fevers and kidney trouble," Mr. Briry explained, "and for the ordinary case a dose of 30 drops is sufficient. Obviously alcohol addicts are buying it for beverage purposes."

"Sweet spirits of nitre contains alcohol, sodium nitrate and sulphuric acid. A few drops of it are beneficial for medicinal purposes, but used as a beverage, its ingredients speak for themselves. Sulphuric acid, as should be well known, will eat through lead. Chemists have a means of removing the sulphuric acid and nitrate, so that only the alcohol remains. However, the average drinker is not a chemist and when he attempts the operation he cannot expect to be successful. To drink the residue is to take one's life in one's hands."

This is what Dean Theodore J. Bradley of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy has to say about the drug: "In small doses it relaxes the blood vessels, thus lowering the blood pressure and increasing the pulse rate and the breathing rapidly. In larger doses, the increase in the pulse and breathing rate is more marked, with leaden, purplish coloration of the lips and finger tips, followed by nausea, muscular debilitation and violent headaches."

DISCUSS CONTROL OF RESOURCES BY LEAGUE

GENEVA, Nov. 29. (By the Associated Press)—The question whether countries shall be allowed to control and dispose at will of their natural resources is the subject of a sharp conflict in a committee of the assembly. The contest arose over a resolution by Gustava Ador, Switzerland, setting up a permanent economic and financial commission, one of the duties of which would be to examine measures for preventing monopolies in raw materials and the means of controlling their distribution.

The resolution is based on article 23 of the covenant which assures all states equitable treatment. It is supported chiefly by Italy, Switzerland and other countries not rich in raw materials.

One of the strongest opponents of the resolution is Sir George E. Foster of Canada, who has taken the same attitude as S. W. Rowell, also of Canada, who served notice on the assembly in an impressive speech recently that any attempt to exercise such control would be regarded as interference in internal affairs to which Canada would never submit.

Mr. Rowell at the same time said that the entry of the United States could not be roped for any such interference were attempted.

The question of mandates is another difficult subject coming up this week. The council has on the agenda for tomorrow the nomination and another committee at the same time will take up the general question in the form of terms and the control of mandates. This committee, which is known as No. 6, has recommended that the United States be invited to co-operate unofficially in the study of the question of disarmament.

SUNDAY ENTERTAINMENT AT Y. M. C. A.

An audience of men which entirely filled the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon heard Dr. Austin T. Kempton of Cambridge give his drama, "Paid in Full." In one of the best of the series of Sunday entertainments being held by the local association.

"Paid in Full" is really nothing but a dramatized sermon, seeking to point out the fact that man gets into difficulties from which only God can save them. The story of the drama was very appealing and as interpreted by Dr. Kempton was most enjoyable. In addition to Dr. Kempton's entertainment, there were solos by Walter W. Colby and Floyd K. Blodgett led the gathering in singing. Rev. Elmer P. West read from the scripture and Rev. Karl P. Meister offered prayer.

ACCEPTS ALL SOULS' CHURCH PASTORATE

Hailing the joining of Trinitarian and Unitarian congregational churches in All Souls' church as a hopeful sign for the progress of Christianity in this country, Rev. Arthur Cushman McGiffert, Jr., of New York city, in a letter read at yesterday morning's service accepted the pastoral of new church.

Referring to the new organization, he says in his letter:

"Such a venture as All Souls' church has undertaken is a hopeful sign for the progress of Christianity in this country. As tangible evidence of your faith in that venture and your mutual trust, you have constructed an edifice which is not only beautiful in itself, but also an efficient tool that will enable the members of the church to render notable service to the city of Lowell, to America and to the world."

Continuing the letter says: "Believing as I do that there is a Christian ideal both for each human being and society as a whole, and that our supreme contribution as followers of Jesus is to ascertain and progressively realize that ideal in our own lives and the life of the community of which we are a part, I welcome the opportunity which you have offered me of joining with you in the difficult and yet challenging task of making the new All Souls' church a force to be counted on in the establishment of the Kingdom of God."

"I therefore accept your call, and will be ready to begin my work on the first Sunday of December or as soon thereafter as should seem to you desirable."

Mr. Giffert is 27 years old and a graduate of Harvard university. He was in service as a chaplain during the world war. His father is president of Union Theological seminary. Mrs. McGiffert is the daughter of Samuel A. Elliot, president of the American Unitarian association. He is a Congregationalist.

Mr. and Mrs. McGiffert are to take up their residence in a furnished house in Ash street, here, on the arrival of Mr. H. Spaulding, upon their arrival in Lowell.

McQUHAE UNABLE TO APPEAR HERE

Owing to the indisposition of the soloist, the concert which was to have been given last evening at the Opera House by Allen McQuhae, tenor, was indefinitely postponed and those who had bought tickets were refunded their money.

Late yesterday afternoon Martin Hunt, who had made all preliminary arrangements for the appearance of the singer here, received a telegram from the Music League of America, Inc. announcing that Mr. McQuhae was suffering from an attack of tonsillitis and that it would be impossible for him to fill his Lowell engagement. The attack came on suddenly as a result of a cold and the extra tax put on the singer's voice during his eastern tour.

The advance sale of seats had been very large and Mr. McQuhae would have probably been greeted by a large audience had he come here. The management of the Opera House had nothing to do with the concert other than to rent the theatre for the evening, but Manager J. W. Schnack made every effort to satisfy the disappointed ticketholders. It is possible that Mr. McQuhae may come to Lowell at a later date.

BILLERICA MEMORIAL

The erection of a memorial for the service men of Billerica was discussed at a recent meeting of the special committee appointed by the town, but no action was taken. The erection of a new building was discussed at length, but owing to the fact that the town has now several fine public buildings and also because of the high cost of labor and materials, the plan was abandoned and it was suggested that later, the addition to the town hall as recommended at the last special town meeting, be erected and dedicated to the memory of the world war veterans.

WITH THE FIREFMEN

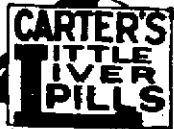

The reflection of a stove fire in a window of the pool room at the corner of Middlesex and Grand streets yesterday afternoon, was responsible for the sounding of an alarm from box 55. The alarm was sent in by a passerby who, after seeing the reflection, did not stop to ascertain whether or not there was a fire. There were three alarms late Saturday afternoon and evening, one at 1:30 o'clock for a chimney fire at 21 Fourth street, the second at 5:45 o'clock for a dump fire in Stackpole street, and the third at 11 o'clock for a smoking stove at 69 Chapel street.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Mauder's cantata, "The Thanksgiving Song," was rendered beautifully by the soloists, Mrs. W. H. Peplin, soprano; Miss Marion Conners, contralto; George A. Blackader, tenor; and Warren T. Reid, bass, at the Sunday evening services in the First Baptist church yesterday. Special appreciation was expressed for the soprano solo, "O Lovely Flowers," and for the duet, "The Blessing and the Fruit of His Command." The duet was rendered by Mrs. Peplin and Mr. Blackader. Baptismal and regular church services with sermon by Rev. Mr. Babcock, pastor, preceded the musical program.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A steady tone prevailed at the opening of today's stock market, Saturday's rally in oil, shipbuilding and steel making further progress. American Linseed was the strongest feature, rising 1 1/2 points. Atlantic Gulf gained 1 point and Bethlehem Steel, Southern Petroleum, Houston Oil, Southern Pacific and Norfolk & Western advanced large fractions. Within the first half hour, however, a reaction set in, wiping out initial gains in oil and shipbuilding. Heaviness developed in Virginia-Carolina Chemical, American International, Pan-American Petroleum and various specialties. Foreign exchange was irregular, but the money market indicated a continuance of last week's easier conditions.

Alleged easier conditions occurred during the morning, but trading lacked the feverish activity of last week's sessions. Additions to losses of the first hour included American Steel, Chicago Chicago Pneumatic Tool and some food specialties at reactions of 1/4 to 1/2 points. Oils, equipments and tobacco effect this movement at the close. The market closed with a slight advance, but yielded to renewed pressure against shipbuilding. Mercantile Marine preferred and United Fruit fell 1/2 to 3/4 point. With a slight rise, United Fruit and American International. Stocks were the only shares to pursue an independent course, leading Norfolk & Western, Southern Pacific rising 1/2 to 3/4 points. Call money opened at 6 per cent.

Except shippings which continued heavy, the market gained briskly. The market closed with a slight advance, but yielded to renewed pressure against shipbuilding. Stocks were the only shares to pursue an independent course, leading Norfolk & Western, Southern Pacific rising 1/2 to 3/4 points. Call money opened at 6 per cent.

LOWELL POLOISTS LOSE IN SUNDAY GAME

BRIDGEPORT, Nov. 29.—The first Sunday game in the American Polo League took place here yesterday afternoon with Bridgeport and Lowell as the contenders. The locals won over the Solids City five, 7 to 4. It was a real polo game and the large crowds were given many thrills, not only by the ginger work of the two teams, but also by a near fight between Doherty and Cameron, who clinched but were prevented from doing any damage by the interference of their fellow players. The two teams saw-sawed in the first period and the locals had the edge by a lone register. As the second frame opened Lowell evened up but the tie was broken by Quigley of the locals and the end of the period. In the concluding chapter Williams and Quigley each counted and the Lowell effort was futile. The score:

The Call'em

New England football followers have only one more game on the 1920 card—the one which comes at Graves field, Boston, next Saturday, between Boston College and Holy Cross. Not only will the outcome settle once and for all the championship of the eastern college series, but also will bring into competition two of the section's strongest football eleven. Lowell is as much interested in the result as in any other game of the season, inasmuch as it is the home of many alumni of both schools and at the present time, a local boy, James Liston, has one of the backfield berths on the Cavanaugh team. Many Lowell citizens occupy seats in the Holy Cross sections, while scores of others will mix in with the B. C. cohorts.

For some time to come we imagine Boston newspapers and others near the Hub will alibi Haverhill's victory over the powerful Newton eleven in the Haverhill stadium on Saturday. In Sunday's papers, such as the Boston Herald, the Haverhill Bulletin, and the Springfield Republican, the story will be told of the "superiority" of the Haverhill team. We were not fortunate enough to see the game, but after reading several accounts of it, for the first time we cannot see the "superiority" of the Haverhill team. As well as being admitted that Coach Broderick has a team of teams at Haverhill this year, one which has reeled off 13 straight victories and has piled up a point total of amazing proportions.

Palming 'Em Green
Once more Dartmouth has christened a stadium for a worthy foe. Its victory Saturday on the Pacific coast over the strong Washington team by the decisive score of 29 to 7, is but another in a string which includes the football homes of Harvard and Syracuse. Also Saturday's game brought Capt. Jim Robertson's team in hand of the victory. The Green leader was threat of minutes of the four quarters and a great power on the attack and defense.

Yale and Lowell High
If you will pardon the comparison, this year's Lowell high team was much similar to Yale. Each had the individual power, minus that cardinal requisite of how to apply it for the good of the whole team. Lawrence 25, Burns 25, Sub 21, Sun 25; Totals 126.

Shewlin to Meet Donovan
Eddie Shewlin and Mickey Donovan will battle for the right of meeting Nate Segal in a welterweight title contest, when they clash in a ten-round bout at the Armory A.A.'s show ring, Monday evening, Boston, Tuesday night.

Donovan is one of those rushing, two-handed warriors who always give the fans plenty of action. He is for the issue every second he is in the ring and does his best to score with a crashing right hand hay-maker.

Shewlin will rely upon his wonderful ring generalship and all-around boxing class to beat Donovan. There are few welterweights in the country who are the Roxbury man's equal.

Shewlin best Nate Segal in Boston Monday, to the latter's winning tussle with Young Kloby. Since becoming champion, Segal has refused to meet Shewlin. Shewlin has also been Paul Doyle, Paddy Flynn, Eddie McAndrews and Johnny Summers.

Liston Again Stars
Jimmy Liston, who played a big part in Boston College's great victory over Georgetown at Boston Saturday afternoon was in Lowell yesterday, visiting his parents over the week-end. He was in fine condition, despite the strenuous game of the day before. Liston's work was of a high order and in keeping with his consistent brilliant playing all season. He made many gains through the line, while his open field running and his clever tackling stood out prominently. He scored one touchdown and was instrumental in the scoring of two others. This week Liston will accompany the B. C. squad to a camp to rest and train for the big rival game with Holy Cross on next Saturday.

Football Game Postponed
The Indians—Lawrence A. football game scheduled to have been played on the Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon was postponed on account of unfavorable weather. This was the second postponement of the game. The Indians will continue practicing this week for the big game of the U.S. Open, which will be played on Saturday afternoon. This will probably mark the final local game of the season.

GOV. COOLIDGE COMING

Will Address Chamber of Commerce Members at the Casino Tonight

With accommodations provided for 550 members and guests and every detail arranged, officials of the chamber of commerce are looking forward with anticipation to the big "national night" to be held this evening at the Casino in Thorndike street when a reception will be tendered to Governor Calvin Coolidge, vice president-elect of the United States.

At noon today President William N. Goodell and Secretary George F. Wells announced that everything was in readiness for the affair and that indications pointed to the biggest event of its kind yet conducted by the chamber.

Governor Coolidge will arrive in Lowell at 5:35 and after an informal reception at the York club will be accompanied to the Casino by a committee from the chamber. From 6 to 6:30 a formal reception will be held and then the members and guests will sit down to a banquet. The speaking will begin about 7:30 and the evening's program will be completed about 9:30.

The speakers, in addition to Governor Coolidge, will be Congressman Robert Luce, Congressman John Jacob Rogers and Mayor Perry D. Thompson. President Goodell of the chamber of commerce will preside. The Casino has been appropriately decorated for the occasion and there will be plenty of orchestral music and community singing under the leadership of Albert Edmund Brown.

Business dress will be worn and a detailed check system of seating has been arranged so that each person will have his own reserved seat. Provision has been made for the parking of automobiles under police protection in Thorndike street.

THE LOCAL MILLS

Appleton Company is Still Running Full Time

The only Lowell cotton mill that is running full time at present is the Appleton Co. and this is due to the fact that the company is still working on old orders, while some new orders have come in recently. The plant shut down last Wednesday night for the remainder of the week, but the curtailment was for last week only. The agent stated this morning that as far as he knows the plant will be kept in operation all of this week and he feels that there are enough orders on hand to keep the help busy for some time. Of course, he said, things may change over night.

The Massachusetts and the Merrimack Mfg. Co. will shut down Wednesday night for the remainder of the week and this half-time proposition will be kept up until further notice or until business is better. The agents of these two mills are unable to state how long present conditions will prevail.

The Hamilton Mfg. Co., which shut down last Wednesday, will reopen tomorrow morning, but the officials of the mill were unable to state this morning whether or not the plant will be kept in operation the remainder of the week. At the Bay State Cotton Corp. the help was kept busy but three days a week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The superintendent of the plant stated this morning business may pick up around the first of January and then again there may not be anything doing in the line of improvement until February or March. Agent Hamilton of the Tremont & Suffolk mill, which has been operating but three days a week for the past few weeks, stated this morning the plant may operate four days this week, but he was not certain.

FINISH with bills and blank check found Friday on Central st. Tel. 230, between 8:30 a. m. and 12 m.

He had ordered the galleries closed as a result of information he had received from the chief commissioner today.

Home Secretary Short's allusion to the situation in Liverpool being well in hand, presumably means that measures have been taken for safeguarding property there against further attempts at destruction. There have been no reports of further outbreaks after Saturday night's incendiary fire on the docks, which involved well towards a score of warehouses and destroyed at least two of them.

News advices on the Liverpool situation have been meagre since Sunday's accounts of the incendiaryism and accompanying shootings came to hand, and up to this afternoon, nothing had been received from usual news sources as to any occurrences in that city last night or today.

More Bloodshed

BELFAST, Nov. 29.—Several casualties from clashes with the authorities and from other disorders occurred in Belfast and other parts of Ireland last night and early yesterday.

A school teacher failed to respond to an order to halt given by crown forces and was shot dead last night.

At Cappagh, County Waterford, a constable was dangerously wounded by three armed men.

In Belfast yesterday a laborer returning to his home was wounded by a gun shot.

Stage "Mob Scene"

LONDON, Nov. 29.—What at first might have been mistaken for a genuine mob move upon the government buildings in Whitehall, was made today when a small crowd attempted to pass the barriers recently erected by the police at the entrances to Downing street and King Charles street.

The crowd, however, it developed, was made up of about 150 supernumeraries sent by a motion picture company for photographic purposes only.

The "mob" whose attempt at the barricade was a mild one, was dispersed by the police, the camera men meantime cranking vigorously.

TO ASK ITALY TO AID IRELAND

ROME, Nov. 29.—Members of the Italian chamber of deputies and senate have received a strong protest concerning the latest serious events in Ireland from the Irish church, headed by Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh. Facts enumerated in the protest and the language used have produced a profound impression, especially among members of the Catholic party, who have taken a decided attitude in favor of Ireland.

It is expected interpellations will be presented in the chamber and senate asking the government if it is not possible for a friendly power to interfere, either directly or through the League of Nations, to obtain a solution that will end the present condition of affairs in Ireland.

ACCIDENTS OVER THE WEEK END

The following accidents were reported to the police over the week end:

Thomas F. Brown, of 237 Powder House boulevard, West Somerville, struck and knocked down a horse attached to a wagon at the corner of John and Merrimack streets with his automobile about 5 o'clock Saturday.

A dog was run over on Chelmsford street Saturday afternoon by a truck driven by James C. Filion of Island street.

John B. Gault, aged 13 years, of Branch street, was knocked down by an automobile driven by Frank Malory of School street in front of the armory in Westford street Saturday afternoon. Gault was taken to the hospital, but was later able to proceed to his home.

SUN BREVITIES

Best printing, Tobin's Associate bldg. Fire and liability insurance. Daniel J. O'Brien, Wyman's Exchange.

Michael H. Harrington returned to his duties as a foreman of the water department this morning, after a brief leave of absence during which he waged a campaign for nomination as an alderman, but was unsuccessful.
